Detectives Ambush Robbers
As They Flee With $13,000

CHICAGO (AP)—A gunman described as extremely dangerous eluded police after a gun battle in which detectives killed three of his companions during a holdup Wednesday at a National Tea Co. store.

Nine detectives, staked out in unmarked cars and a taxi, ambushed the men as they fled the Southwest Side grocery carrying $13,000 delivered minutes earlier by an armored express truck.

The gunmen managed to reach their getaway car, where the fourth man was but the auto bogged down in mud a short distance away as they tried to evade pursuing officers. The robbers scrambled from the car, guns blazing, and police returned a withering fire.

One robber was fatally shot as he raced across a nearby front lawn. Two others were killed as they dashed through gangways between homes in the residential area. Police recovered all the stolen cash, which was dropped by one of the fleeing gunmen.

The fourth man, believed to be Chris Panteas, 28, eluded 200 police as they made a door-to-door search of the neighborhood.

The dead were identified as Michael Parille, 37, Neil McCauley, 49, and Russel Bredon, 40. All four are from Chicago. Parille and McCauley were ex-convicts with long police records.

Police said detectives from the criminal intelligence unit had trailed the gang for more than two months. The National store was one of several staked out when officers became convinced a store in that area was marked for a holdup.

In addition, detectives in unmarked cars trailed the ex-convicts throughout the day.

Two detectives saw the bandit escape.

Over 42,000 ROK Students Stage Protests

Demonstrate in 10
Cities Against
Jap Negotiations

BY C. S. CHIN
SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—More than 42,000 students demonstrated in 10 Korean cities today against the government's negotiations to normalize relations with Japan, but President Chung Hee Park vowed to continue the talks in Tokyo no matter how many turn out.

Backed by armed troops, Park went on the air with an appeal for calm in the face of the biggest outpouring of students since the public rioting brought down President Syngman Rhee in April 1960.

Park told the students they were playing into the hands of Communist agitators by persisting in their demonstrations, now in their third day.

Talks Continue

But he stressed that the diplomatic talks in Tokyo will continue and he promised to settle differences with Japan. Korea's overlord for 35 years until the end of World War II, "only on terms most favorable to us."

As he made the radio broadcast, 20,000 students surged through the streets of Seoul chanting anti-Japanese slogans, and denouncing South Korea's Japan policy as "humiliating diplomacy." An estimated 22,000 others clogged the streets of nine smaller cities.

Most of the demonstrations were peaceful, but in Seoul several hundred students tried to break through barricades across approaches to the presidential palace. Steel-helmeted troops drove them back with swinging rifle butts. Several students were injured.

The students, most of them of high school age, only got a half mile from the hillside palace.

The negotiations to normalize relations between Japan and South Korea have been dragging on for years, but recently Park and Japanese Premier Hayato Ikeda have been making a determined effort to bring them to a successful conclusion.

Boycott Begun At Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A boycott of Jacksonville businesses which impose restrictions on Negroes was started today by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The NAACP called for retaliation against "Jim Crow merchants" even as a group of white and Negro leaders groped for a way out of the city's four-day-old racial crisis.

"Spend your money only where you are respected," Rutgers Pearson, city and state NAACP president, told a Wednesday night meeting of the organization.

The boycott was approved by the largest chapter turnout in recent months, against all businesses except those selling food, the ship broke in two after colliding with the tanker Pen-

Senate Votes To Take Up Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, breaking a deadlock lasting since March 9, voted today to take up for formal consideration the House-passed civil rights bill.

Southerners, who have used the motion to take up as the basis for lengthy speeches bitterly attacking the bill itself, finally let the vote come on the 17th day of the debate.

The motion, made by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, passed overwhelmingly as expected. The roll call vote was 67-17.

Sen Proxmire of Wisconsin voted with the majority. Sen. Nelson was not listed as voting.

The Senate met today at 9 a.m., three hours ahead of its usual time, and the roll call came without any further speech-making.

This first vote cleared the way for a motion by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to send the bill to the Senate Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., for 10 days of hearings and study.

Democratic leaders planned to try to kill this move with a tabling motion later today but expected the outcome to be close.

Fox Valley Plows Out From 9-Inch Snowfall

Other Parts Of U. S. Have Bad Storms

BY TOM RICHARDS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Fox River Valley plowed its way through nine inches of snow today while other parts of the nation recovered from violent storms which injured more than a score of persons.

Minor automobile accidents in which snow slick streets were a factor injured one person in Appleton and two in Outagamie County.

In most areas of the Valley, children missed what probably would have been their last chance of the season for a day off from school because of weather. They were already recessed for Easter.

However, Bethel Lutheran School, Menasha, was to have been open today, but closed because of the snow.

Plowing, Salting
Road crews began plowing, salting and sanding Wednesday afternoon and early today.

Winds, which reached a peak of 30 miles per hour, whipped the light snow into drifts more than four feet high. By mid-morning, major thoroughfares had been plowed, but officials were concerned winds would blow the feathery snow back into drifts on highways, and cause a need for repaving.

U.S. Weather Bureau officials at Austin Straubel Field in Green Bay said fresh northerly winds this afternoon would diminish tonight.

They said snow would end this afternoon as skies cleared and temperatures became colder. Low readings tonight were to be near 6 after early morning lows today of 15. Friday will be fair and cold with a high near 24.

Warmer Easter
The Easter forecast calls for some warming and clear skies.

Today's storm was attributed to a low pressure area which moved north from Texas, producing snow in the Fox Valley, and ran further south. The weatherman said the storm moved further north than had been expected.

Snow and wind did some mischief.

British Jury Convicts 9 Men in Mail Train Robbery

Judge Defers Sentence Until
After Trial of 8 Other Persons

AYLESBURY, England (AP)—A jury found nine men guilty today on charges of taking part in Britain's great train robbery—the theft of $7,345,000 from the Glasgow-London mail train last Aug. 8.

A 10th man was found guilty of conspiring to obstruct the course of justice.

Judge Edmund Davies said he would defer sentencing the convicted men until after the trial of eight other persons accused of complicity in the giant money snatch, the largest cash robbery in the annals of world crime.

The eight awaiting trial — including three women — were granted separate trials when the case was brought to court in January. Another defendant pleaded guilty and still another got a directed verdict of acquittal during the trial.

Masterminds Sought
The police have so far recovered only 250,000 pounds, $722,400 of the loot and are still looking for the gang's masterminds, who are believed to be in possession of the balance.

The haul was made in a commando-like raid on the London-bound mail train after it was stopped by a false red signal at a hamlet near Aylesbury.

Most of the money was in five-pound notes being transferred from banks in Scotland to banks in the British capital.

9-Week Trial
The trial began Jan. 20 and lasted nine weeks, an unusual length for a British criminal trial. Judge Davies took five days to deliver his summation before the jury's three-day deliberation.

The jury's three-day deliberation was the longest such session in England since 1870 when a jury was kept locked up for 10 days.

Base of Right Lung

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors found signs of moderate inflammation or pneumonia at the base of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's right lung today and started treatment with antibiotics. He is still in serious condition.

Pneumonitis is described as a localized acute inflammation of the lungs, ordinarily less serious than true pneumonia.

Pneumonia is always a hazardous condition for patients who have undergone severe shock and are of advanced years.

Chronic Caution Seen As a Johnson Malady

Senator Fulbright Hints That Johnson
Should 'Quit Playing to the Gallery'

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the most powerful Democrats in Congress has suggested, in effect, that President Johnson stop playing to the gallery in his handling of foreign affairs. Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in an 8,000-word speech Wednesday criticized the Johnson administration for yielding to the "malady of chronic and excessive caution."

He said "an effective foreign policy is one which concerns itself more with innovation than with conciliation at port and probably at the instigation of the Johnson administration for leaders to do unpleasant and unpopular things."

Face Realities
Fulbright ranged the world—communism, Russia, Red Chi-

possible from the morass of foreign policy blunders" of the past three years.

This writer asked Laird Wednesday night if he was implying that Johnson and Fulbright cooked up the speech between them. Laird said: "That's the implication."

The Fulbright speech created such heat in the Senate that practically all work on the civil rights bill stopped.

Here are some of Fulbright's views:

Invasion Unthinkable
Cuba—He said invasion is unthinkable, a blockade is out of the question since it might lead to war, and that even the present American trade boycott aimed at trying to topple Fidel Castro is a failure.

He suggested acceptance of the continued existence of Castro as a "distasteful nuisance," but he neglected to say how this country should, or could, do business with him, if that's what he had in mind.

Foreign Policy Blunders
He called it the "first gun in an administration drive to extriches" oppose peaceful social change.

But things really got mixed up when Laird called on Johnson to state his position on Fulbright's talk.

The White House issued a statement: "It is a very interesting speech. But specifically on Cuba and Panama it does not represent the policy of this administration."

Safety Drives Cited as Hazard
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The minister of highways for British Columbia says safety campaigns "are not only a bore, they are a menace."

And nothing gets his dander up more than slow drivers. Philip Gagliardi, sometimes referred to as the "hot rod minister," says, "The fast driver is the safe driver because he is more alert."

Gagliardi and his six-man entourage are in this country to drum up tourist business by speaking of the glories of British Columbia.

He said the President and his advisers have a responsibility in a situation like this to "exercise their own best judgment as to where the national interest lies" even though it may mean "unpopular decisions."

This country, Fulbright said, should re-examine its dealings with Russia to take advantage of the Russian-Red Chinese split and be prepared for revolutions in Latin America where "olig-

Many Confidence Men Prey on Aged People

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Among the most contemptible crooks in the U. S. today are those who are victimizing Social Security beneficiaries — for in most cases these are elderly people primarily or wholly dependent on their Social Security checks for support, and the ones least able to sustain any loss of money or shock.

Porter

Yet a cruel fact is that the Social Security Administration has in recent months turned up victims of confidence men in fee. One impersonator tricked an elderly beneficiary into paying a fee of $96 in return for that one-third of the 40,000 to 50,000 government checks stolen and forged annually are that Social Security has over- Social Security benefit checks, paid him and that he has been

An appalling truth is that despite repeated warnings, aged beneficiaries continue to be easy prey for the swindlers.

How do the crooks work? How can you guard yourself or any beneficiary you know against them?

There are three main categories of Social Security crooks. (1) The Impersonator. He is the confidence man who will pose as a Social Security agent in order to gain the confidence of a beneficiary and entrance to his home.

Makes Promises

He may promise either a non-social Security Administration or an increase in monthly benefits after payment of a set fee — and neither file for an explanation at once.

Another impersonator talked a 66-year-old man into turning over $750.

He may claim that the Social Security office is checking on "back-security" by the Social Security Administration and that if the beneficiary's needs, may ask to see the beneficiary's claim, the Social Security System would take care of it.

How can you guard yourself against these and other swindlers?

Beware of anyone who poses as a Social Security employee and promises anything for a fee. Ask to see identification and, if you have any doubts at all, call the nearest Social Security office. If you really need help in applying for benefits and keeping accounts, there are legitimate lawyers and accountants who will provide the assistance at reasonable fees.

Special Benefits

Beware of anyone who promises extra or special benefits. Ask the local Social Security office for an explanation at once.

$1 Billion Yearly In Military Aid Called Minimum

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said Wednesday free world strength around the edge of the Communist bloc will quickly melt away unless the military assistance program gets at least a billion dollar a year.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, sounded an even stiffer warning. He said the requested billion dollars for the coming fiscal year can only be regarded as a holding operation of borderline adequacy.

Both men gave their views in statements prepared for the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

"I would be less than candid with the committee," Taylor said, "to leave you with the impression that I believe that we can get along with a billion-dollar program over the mid-term without a serious loss of military effectiveness in many countries which it is in our interest to support."

McNamara told the committee, "We are presenting a request of only a billion dollars for the fiscal year 1965 solely because the Congress has made it crystal clear to the executive branch that it is unwilling to appropriate a larger amount."

500 Pupils Register at St. Bernadette

New Catholic Grade School to Open All 8 Classes in Fall

Almost 500 pupils have registered for eight grades in the new St. Bernadette Catholic School, which will open next fall, according to the Rev. W. C. McKinnon, pastor.
The school will open with 12 or 13 classes. Father McKinnon said. The faculty will include eight nuns from the Franciscan Sisters of Manitowoc, and four or five lay teachers, he said.
Sister Madonna, now teaching at St. Therese Catholic School, Appleton, has been appointed principal for St. Bernadette, and is helping with planning and furnishing the new school.
Crowding Problems
Opening of Appleton's sixth Catholic grade school will help relieve public school crowding problems on Appleton's south side. Johnston School, a new public elementary school, was opened about two blocks from the St. Bernadette site last fall.
St. Bernadette School will begin classes Sept. 8. Dedication by the Most Rev. Stanislaus V. Foma, Bishop of the Green Bay Diocese, will be planned for September or early October, the pastor said.
Construction started last summer on the school and a convent and rectory for St. Bernadette Parish. The three buildings will cost $883,000. The school gymnasium will be used temporarily as a church, with a permanent church to be built later.
Open House
Father McKinnon said an open house will be planned when the new buildings are nearer completion.
A census taken by the parish last year showed about 518 children of the congregation were expected to start in the eight grades next fall. Between 450 and 500 now have registered. It was not certain before registration whether all eight grades would be opened the first year, since it was felt some pupils might not want to transfer for the final one or two years of grade school. It now has been decided to open all eight grades.

Mexican Boy to Sing Old Jewish Prayers
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A San Francisco Jewish congregation will hear the ancient prayers of Judaism sung at Passover by a small Mexican Indian boy.
He is Yussu Baltasar Laureano Ramirez-Resendiz, 10, who traces his faith to ancestors forced to flee Spain during the 15th century inquisition.
Since the age of 3, the boy has been chanting Jewish liturgy in a tiny Mexico City synagogue, where his father, a lawyer, serves as lay rabbi.

The Bouncy Bright Red Cranberry

Wisconsin Picked for Market Test of Fresh-Frozen Berry

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

That tart, cheery red berry of bog and sandy shore still is an all-American that's wonderful for fall and winter holidays . . . but there's something new been added to the processing of this popular fruit and the state of Wisconsin has an important part in it.

The berry with the bounce has become a 'year-round' fruit in fresh form, although homemakers have been using cranberries as canned sauces, jellies and juices for years. However, frozen-fresh cranberries make their national debut and official appearance this week in Wisconsin stores. This state was chosen for the country's first market test, so be on the lookout for the new version of the popular cranberry in the freezer section of Fox Cities area stores.

Quick frozen cranberries are easy to use . . . they're cooked exactly like fresh-off-the-vine cranberries in season. Rinse in cold water before preparing, but do not thaw. They may be ground, chopped while still frozen or cooked in liquid until they pop their skins. Like most frozen foods, once thawed they should never be refrozen.

Any recipe that calls for fresh cranberries now can be read "fresh frozen cranberries." Actually, this is exciting news once the homemaker stops to think about it. The red fruit comes to the table almost as a brand new one. Think of all the former out-of-season meals that can be sparked with fresh cranberries!

To help launch the berry on its nation-wide debut in Wisconsin, we suggest the following recipes that even includes an egg roll for Easter.

A quick round-up check of area stores indicates that the pound boxes of cranberries will be selling from 39 to 45 cents a box. At least one market already has them on hand.

CRANBERRY SPICY SHORTCAKE

1 cup ground frozen-fresh cranberries
1 can (11 ounces) drained mandarin oranges
1/2 cup slivered blanched almonds
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup sugar
2 cups biscuit mix
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons ground nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup light cream
1 teaspoon finely grated orange rind

Sweetened whipped cream
Orange slices

Frozen-fresh cranberries
cooked in corn syrup

Combine all ingredients in first part of recipe to make the cranberry sauce. Chill for several hours.

Mix Biscuit mix with sugar, only until dough is smooth. Roll out on lightly floured board to maining ingredients, stirring until well blended. Knead on lightly floured board. Roll out to into 12 oblongs, about 2 by 4 three-fourths inch thickness; cut into 3-inch rounds. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 350-degree oven for 20 minutes or until golden brown.

Prepare filling according to recipe below. Spoon hot over with sauce. Top with sweetened four pastry layers; top with four whipped cream and garnish more pastry layers and cover filled with cranberries cooked four pastries. Divide sour cream until glazed in white corn syrup, into topping for assembled pastries. To make the cornucopias, slit tries. Garnish with remaining each orange slice and twist into cranberry sauce. Serve immediately. Secure with pick if necessary. To glaze the berries, cook in white syrup (enough to just cover) until berries are almost done and glossy.

HOT CRANBERRY LAYERS

1 cup all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup vegetable shortening
1 egg yolk
3 tablespoons light cream

Cranberry Filling
1/2 cup sour cream topping

Sift flour with baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut in shortening until particles resemble coarse cornmeal. Beat egg yolk with cream. Add egg-cream mixture to dry ingredients. Stir until dough cleans the bowl. Knead on lightly floured board only until dough is smooth. Roll out on lightly floured board to an oblong 8 by 12 inches and about a quarter-inch thick. Cut into 12 oblongs, about 2 by 4 inches. Place on lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake in preheated, 350-degree oven for 20 minutes or until golden brown.

Prepare filling according to recipe below. Spoon hot over with sauce. Top with sweetened four pastry layers; top with four whipped cream and garnish more pastry layers and cover filled with cranberries cooked four pastries. Divide sour cream until glazed in white corn syrup, into topping for assembled pastries. To make the cornucopias, slit tries. Garnish with remaining each orange slice and twist into cranberry sauce. Serve immediately. Secure with pick if necessary. To glaze the berries, cook in white syrup (enough to just cover) until berries are almost done and glossy.

CRANBERRY FILLING AND TOPPING

2 cups frozen-fresh cranberries
1/2 cup water
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons lime juice
1/2 cup chopped pitted dates
1/2 teaspoon ground allspice

Rinse cranberries; place in saucepan. Add water and remaining ingredients. Bring to boil; lower heat and cook until berries pop and filling thickens to spreading consistency.

EASTER EGG ROLL

2 cups frozen-fresh cranberries
1/2 cup water
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup all-purpose flour

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs until thick and lemon colored. Gradually beat in sugar, two tablespoons at a time. Continue beating until thick and light. Fold in sifted dry ingredients and almond extract. Turn into prepared cake pan, spreading evenly. Bake 10 to 13 minutes or until surface springs back when pressed with fingers.

Sift confectioners sugar onto clean towel. With sharp knife, loosen sides of cake from pan. Turn out cake onto sugar. Peel off waxed paper; trim off crisp edges of cake. Starting with long edge, roll cake in towel. When rolled, place seam side down on wire rack to cool. Gently unroll cake when cool and remove towel. Spread with cooled cranberry filling and re-roll. Place seam side down on plate and chill before frosting.

To make the frosting: Whip heavy cream until thick; beat in vanilla and sugar. Add red coloring to give pink color as desired. Frost jelly roll generously with whipped cream. Garnish with jelly beans of assorted colors.

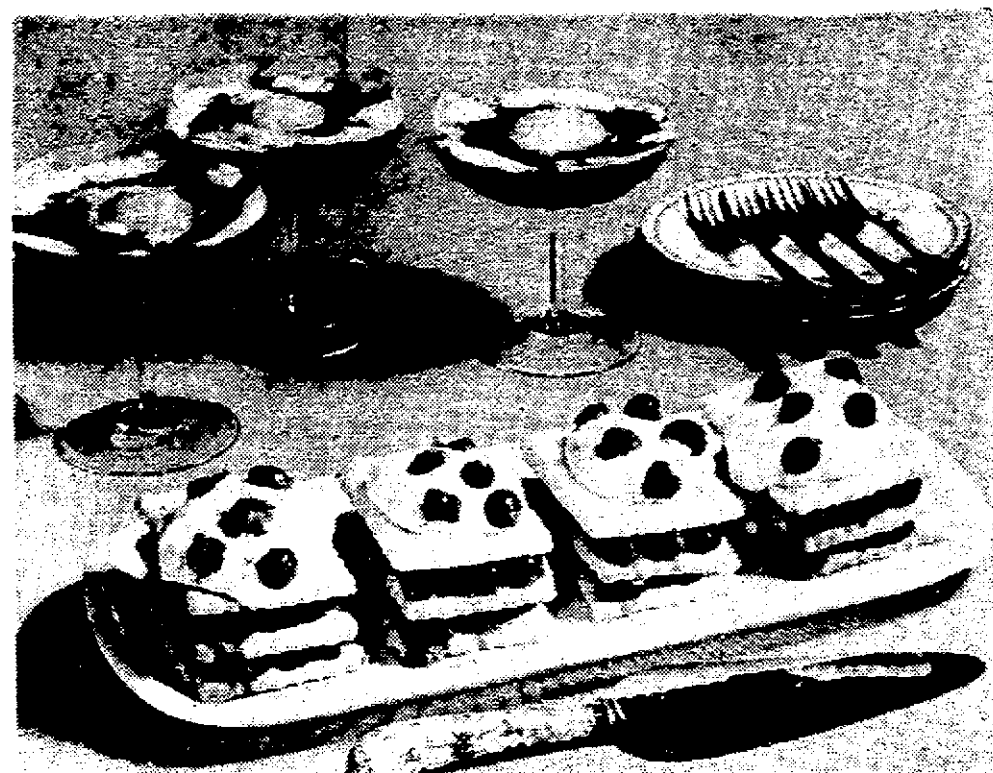

MOCK ZABAGLIONE

8 egg yolks
1 cup confectioners sugar
1/2 cup cranberry juice cocktail

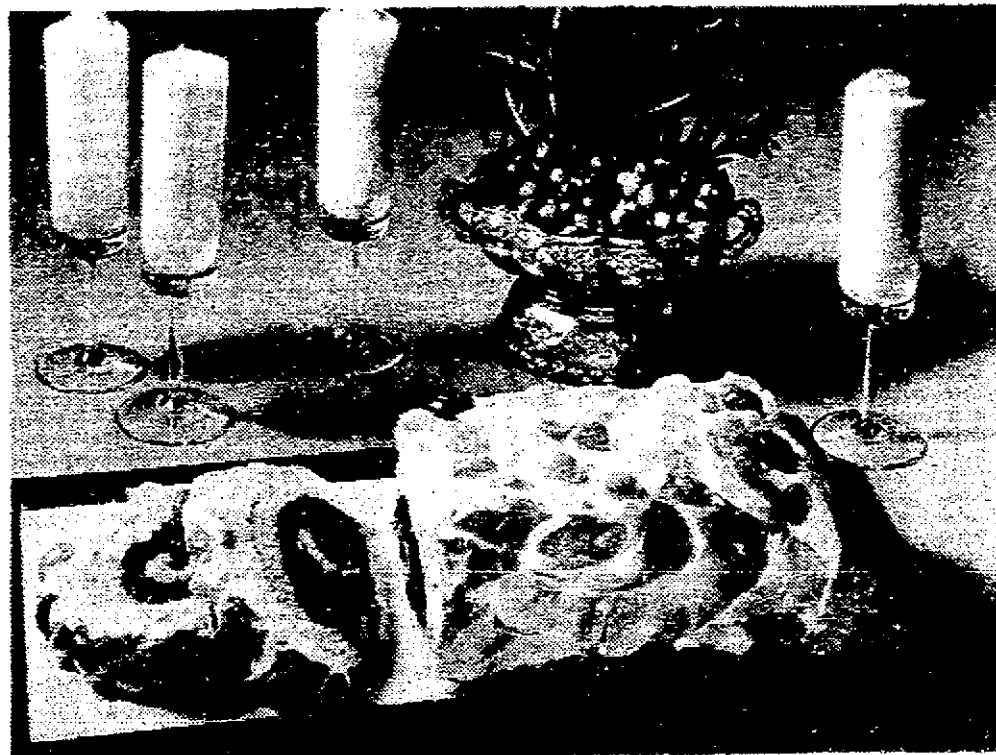

Beat egg yolks and confectioners sugar until mixture is very light. Pour in top of double boiler, over hot water but not permitting water to touch bottom part of top double boiler pan. This step is very important, so check water level in bottom of double boiler before going on.

Beat the custard constantly with wire beater. When it is 10 minutes. Remove from heat, foamy, add cranberry juice. Stir in sugar. Let stand until gradually. Continue to heat custard, beating continuously, until mixture doubles in bulk and begins to thicken. Remove from heat oven to 400 degrees. Light heat.

Whip egg whites and salt until stiff. Fold into custard. Serve at once in six sherbet glasses.

Squares or Oblongs of pastry, a cranberry filling that's spooned on hot and a topping of sour cream make these Hot Cranberry Layers. The filling for the pastry treats is made from the new frozen-fresh cranberries combined with pitted dates, a touch of allspice and lime juice.

This Luscious Looking Easter Egg Roll is frosted a soft pink and is dotted all over with colorful jelly beans. Cranberry filling centers the jelly roll to make a bright swirl of color when the cake is sliced. Served with the cake are individual servings of Zabaglione in a simple version. The Italian recipe is changed slightly with cranberry juice replacing the traditional wine.

Spicy Shortcakes Made from biscuit mix are enhanced with an elegant cranberry filling that combines frozen-fresh cranberries, mandarin oranges and slivered almonds. Orange slices fashioned into cornucopias, then filled with cranberries cooked until glazed in hot syrup, top the dollop of sweetened whipped cream on each shortcake.

The home of the bride's parents was the setting for a wedding reception.

All-Purpose Detergent Adequate

For most of your housecleaning tasks an all-purpose laundry detergent will do the best job. You can clean most any solid surface with a detergent and warm water solution.

For special surfaces like pewter, copper and silver you'll want to use a cleaner made for that purpose.

For the usual cupboard cleaning, wall washing, sink scouring, pan brightening and appliance cleaning a laundry detergent will do the job. Use an all-purpose detergent, though, rather than your light-duty dishwashing detergent. It's fine for dishes but not for other cleaning jobs.

You can use an all-purpose liquid cleaner, too. Some of these are more alkaline so they do a little better cleaning job. Usually they cost more than your laundry detergent.

Occasionally you may need to use a scouring powder but usually a detergent solution will do the cleaning job. Even in cleaning your sink, try warm suds rather than scratching the glass surface with an abrasive.

Some cleaning-wax combinations are good for appliances or other surfaces. Be sure to follow the manufacturer's directions. If he says use a damp cloth it's important that you do so. With a dry cloth the cleaning solvent may be absorbed and not stay on the surface to do the cleaning job.

Bake Sale Planned By Catholic Group

A bake sale has been planned by the Christian Mothers Society of St. Edwards Catholic Church, Mackville. It will take place at 10 a.m. Saturday at Geener Dry Goods Co.

The committee is composed of Mrs. Joseph Van Handel, Mrs. Ervin Lanser, Mrs. Sylvan Bodoh and Mrs. LeRoy Geiger.

Hard-Frozen Instead of hard-boiled, these Easter eggs make a delightful treat for youngsters. Made of iceman's "snow" ice, colored and sweetened with fruit syrups, they are decorated with gumdrop flowers. It takes about three-fourths cup of commercial snow ice for each egg and about three pounds of ice will make eight eggs. After they are fashioned and decorated, freeze until firm. To make the gumdrop posies, flatten out gumdrops on a board sprinkled with granulated sugar. Use a rolling pin. Shape flattened pieces into petals, stems to form the flowers.

Jamaican Spice Buns Star for Easter

An engaging combination of Great Britain and the tropics, Jamaica is a busy and thriving island.

It is perhaps most famous as a resort, with many fine hotels and restaurants, beautiful scenery and long sandy beaches. Montego Bay and Ocho Rios, located on the northwestern portion of the island, have become fashionable meeting places for vacationing Americans.

The climate of Jamaica is tropical, but trade winds blowing almost constantly make generally comfortable weather the year round. With such ideal conditions, vegetation is lush, and fruits and vegetables plentiful. The principal products are beans, corn, sugar, coffee, ginger and fruit. The surrounding waters yield an abundance of seafoods, and fish dishes are an important part of the cuisine.

Native Cuisine
Hotels and restaurants naturally cater to the food preferences of their guests, but native Jamaican cuisine is nonetheless outstanding. Island specialties include many superb seafood dishes, intriguing local vegetable preparations, and a number of tempting sweet breads.

Probably one of the foremost authorities on Jamaican cookery is Lady Ashenheim, wife of the Jamaican Ambassador to the United States. His Excellency, Sir Neville Noel Ashenheim.

A fine cook in her own right, Lady Ashenheim also is one of Washington's finest hostesses. Her menus frequently feature native Jamaican foods which she takes great pride in preparing herself. One of her specialties is a cod dish known as Coat of Arms because of its resemblance to the Jamaican seal.

We learned that the only traditional Easter food is special yeast-raised Spice Buns, kneaded rolls, piquantly spiced and filled with candied fruits, raisins and currants. According to Jamaican custom, friends and neighbors visiting on Easter

From Colorful Jamaica Comes the recipe for these piquant, fruit-filled Spice Buns traditional at Easter. According to Island custom friends and neighbors visiting on Easter Sunday are greeted with these casserole-type yeast rolls, an assortment of cheeses and tea.

Buns are served Easter Sunday with cheeses and teas. Here is the recipe.
EASTER SPICE BUNS
2 cups milk
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup warm water (105-115 degrees)
1 package or cake yeast
1 egg, slightly beaten

10 1/2 cups unsifted flour (about)
1 cup currants
1 cup seedless raisins
1/2 cup chopped candied cherries
1/2 cup chopped citron
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
Scald milk, stir in sugar, salt and butter, cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble yeast in yeast; stir until dissolved.

Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, beaten egg, half the flour. Add fruits and spices; beat until smooth. Stir in enough additional flour to make a slightly stiff dough to do the plan. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead until smooth and elastic, about 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover, let rise in warm place, free from draft, until double in bulk, about 1 1/2 hours.

Punch dough down, turn out on lightly floured board. Divide into 24 pieces. Shape each piece into a ball. Place 12 balls in arrangements made for each of two greased 9-inch round cake pans. Repeat with remaining dough so that the room would be presentable. They never free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about one hour. Bake in 350-degree oven 30 minutes or until done. When cool, frost with confectioner's sugar frosting if desired.

The Ailing House

Old Piano Can be Refinished

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: I have an old grand piano which is unsightly looking because the finish is checked badly and is dull and black. The wood is mahogany, under the present finish. Could I put on an antique white finish myself, to match several pieces of furniture in that finish? Have been advised that this can be done without completely removing the present finish. Do you have any reliable books or sources of information I could refer to?

A: If this is a valuable piano, I strongly recommend having it refinished by a professional. With reasonable care, you could refinish this yourself. "Antique-it-yourself" kits for refinishing furniture over present finish are available at some paint hardware and housewares dealers. Follow manufacturer's instructions carefully. For general instructions, I suggest sending for copy of leaflet "Finishing Wood Furniture," available from National Paint Varnish and Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. It also contains list of reference books on refinishing furniture.

Q: We moved into our just finished house about a year ago. We have a concrete floor in the basement which still gives us a lot of dust, in spite of sweeping frequently. The builder said this would disappear in time but it hasn't. The concrete seems okay otherwise, no cracking or seepage. How can we get rid of the dust?

A: This condition is easily remedied. Applying several thin coats of good quality paste wax, well rubbed in, will settle the dust. Or paint the floor with a rubber base floor paint. Or, if you plan to paint at a later date or put down tile, liquid cement hardeners are available at masonry supplies dealers and paint and hardware stores. Follow label instructions carefully.

Q: Our house is a ranch type on a concrete slab over a low crawl space. We have asphalt tile floors throughout. We would like to have hardwood flooring in the living and dining rooms. Could this be put down without first removing the asphalt tile?

A: Yes. Laminated oak block is now available for installation on concrete slabs. It can be put down over asphalt tile or any smooth solid subfloor. The blocks are factory finished and require no nailing, being put down in mastic adhesive. Your lumber yard or building supplies dealer should be able to give you information about this, or any floor materials dealer.

by playing a low diamond from dummy. East could win the first trick with the queen of diamonds, but then he was stuck for a safe return.

East could see that a club or spade return would give declarer a free finesse. The opening lead of the nine (West's highest diamond) made it clear that South held the jack and that a diamond return would cost a trick.

There was some hope that a trump return would cost nothing, so East returned the deuce of trumps. This turned out to be just as costly, since South could put up the ten of hearts and thus limit the trump loss to one trick.

West took the ace of hearts and led his other diamond, still hoping to get a ruff. Declarer took the ace of diamonds, cleared with its clay pot and saucer set the queen of hearts out of directly on the floor or double-dummy, and got to his hand with the king of clubs to lead some more trumps.

Not Out of Woods
Despite the favorable return at the second trick South was not out of the woods. Unless he did something about it, he would wind up losing two diamonds and a club in addition to the ace of trumps.

As South led out his trumps, however, he noticed that East was having trouble. East had to throw a diamond on the third round of trumps and another diamond on the fourth trump. If East threw a spade, South would lead to the ace of spades and ruff a spade to set up dummy's queen. If East threw a club, declarer would lead a club to dummy's ace to drop East's queen.

East could not save himself by discarding two diamonds. South led the jack of diamonds to give East his diamond trick. With only black cards left, East had to give dummy a free finesse in either spades or clubs. Poor East had been caught in two end plays in the same hand.

Daily Question
As dealer, you hold: S A Q 6 2 H Q 5 D A 8 4 C A J 5 4. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one no trump. This shows 16 to 18 points in high cards (you have 17), balanced distribution, and strength in at least three suits. This one bid describes your hand perfectly. When today's hand was played, North had to bid all around the lot to describe his hand. (Copyright, 1964)

Try Finnish Pancake for Lenten Meal

How about some Karjalan Paisti? Or a dish of Kalakukko? Or a Blini?

These dishes, along with Paan Kielit (slightly smoked reindeer tongue) are hearty foods which the Finnish housewives of tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship for Wisconsin and will receive a $1,500 scholarship for Wisconsin and will receive a $1,500 scholarship for Wisconsin

Finland, the land of beautiful forests, the Midnight Sun, and picturesque Laplanders, has an old and exciting past. But the spirit of Finland today is modernity, and some of the most beautiful contemporary glassware, pottery and textile design comes from Finland's skilled craftsmen and artisans.

Exporting Recipes
Another new export is the Finnish recipe, which delights the modern housewife because it is simple and wholesome, yet different.

Here is an authentic recipe for an oven pancake. Its tart taste is due to the touch of lemon juice, which the Finns often add to give life to a dish. Its simplicity of preparation is guaranteed.

So, even if you don't have a reindeer or your own forest, you can bring Finland to your home with this recipe. Serve it for an unusual spring brunch, or a Lenten dinner.

And watch your family "finnish" all of it.

Finnish Pancake

1 egg
1 cup milk
1/2 cup flour
1/2 tsp. sugar
dash salt
2 tbs. lemon juice
1 tbs. melted butter
Topping: 2
2 tbs. lemon juice
2 tbs. sugar
Beat egg well. Add milk, and beat for a few minutes. Sift together flour, sugar and salt; gradually add to milk and egg mixture. Stir in lemon juice and melted butter. Pour into buttered 10-inch pie pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes or until golden brown. Sprinkle with 2 tbs. lemon juice and 2 tbs. sugar.
Serve hot. Serves four.

DOUBTING THOMAS

After the crucifixion, the eleven Apostles huddled together behind locked doors, fearing the mob that had killed Jesus.

Christ suddenly appeared in their midst, saying "peace be with you."

The Apostle Thomas, who was not there at the time, refused to believe it. "Unless I see in His hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the place of the nails, and put my hand into His side, I will not believe."

When Jesus again visited the Apostles behind locked doors, Thomas was among them. Jesus said to him: "Bring here thy finger and see My hands; and bring here thy hand and put it into My side."

Thomas answered, "My Lord and my God."

But Jesus said to him, "Because thou hast seen Me, thou hast believed; blessed are they that have not seen and yet have believed." (John XX:29) 3-26

Children Or Guests Get 'Old Bedding'

One out of three old mattresses are passed along within a household or to another household, according to a nationwide independent survey made for the bedding industry.

The principal victim of the mattress "hand-me-down" is the same person who is on the old clothes shift — the child under 12 years of age. Children are less likely than adults to complain about sleeping discomfort. But, unfortunately, children are more likely to become tension sleepers.

If your children are nervous and cranky, it may be due to their lack of perfect sleep that provides maximum rest. Young pliable spines need the proper support of good mattresses and box springs — not old, sagging hand-me-down mattresses.

Or if the bedding is not passed on to the youngsters it is relegated to guest rooms when new sets are brought into the home. The chances are that you may receive a low grade as a hostess.

Bedding Into Guest Rooms

A nationwide independent survey reveals that one of three old mattresses and box springs are passed along within the household. Slightly more than 40 percent of these "hand-me-downs," go into guest rooms.

To furnish a perfect hostess title, turn your guest room with new oversize bedding. Extra length and extra width mattresses and box springs are designed for today's taller men and women and represent the maximum in sleep comfort.

Parents' World

Pre-School Child Shouldn't Have Other-Child Care

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: My daughter who's four years old is very easy to get along with. She's lovable and affectionate. But she constantly bothers my two-year-old son. She dresses him, sees that he's taken care of first, and it's impossible to separate them.

Dr. Jones: I'm afraid that when they grow up, he will take advantage of her and turn her into a fool for anyone's sob story. But I don't know how to stop this now without making her lose affection for him.

MRS. M. D. The best way to prevent problems in her later life is to make certain she gets the mothering and guidance she needs now. No pre-school child should be allowed to take responsibility for another child. Your daughter still needs to be babied by you and helped to learn to take care of herself.

Whenever she starts to take over for you, stop her. Explain that you're able to be a good mother to both your children without her help. And remind her that when she's grownup, she'll be able to take care of her own children. Give her an extra snuggle whenever you point out that she's still just a little girl who has her work cut out learning to take care of herself. That way, she shouldn't lose affection for you or her brother.

Dear Dr. Jones: What responsibilities should two young girls have around the home? Our girls are five and six. I think they should clean up their room in the morning before they leave for school. They're very good about dressing themselves, washing themselves, and otherwise helping themselves. But they leave clothes and toys all over their rooms and leave their beds all messed up.

MRS. C. O. Ask them to put away their toys when they finish each game. And tell them to hang up their clothes when they remove them and to put dirty clothes in the laundry bag at night. That way, they'll just have to hang up their pajamas and straighten their beds in the morning.

So long as you keep their expectations limited to asking them to take care of themselves and of their own things, you aren't asking too much.

Dear Dr. Jones: What causes my children to be unhappy all the time?

MRS. K. A. Children are happy when their needs are taken care of. To find out where your children's dissatisfaction lies, you'll need to examine the usual happenings of their daily life. Write more details about such things as eating, sleeping, toileting, play, and discipline, and I'll try to help you discover what's wrong so you can correct matters.

Dear Dr. Jones: My 3½-year-old son won't use the toilet, no matter how long I sit with him in the bathroom. He knows this upsets me. And today he said, "Mommy, please put diapers back on me so I can mess in them and not make you mad." Now what should I do?

MRS. I. A. Follow the suggestions in my pamphlet, "How to Solve Toileting Problems." These will help you learn to keep yourself from becoming upset by his refusal to use the toilet. Once he's sure you aren't going to interfere with his right to decide to use it, he'll find the toilet convenient and comfortable to use.

To receive a copy of "How To Solve Toileting Problems," send your request with 20 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Eve Jones, care of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

take on a certain look that reminds me of her mother. I keep wondering if the character traits will pop out later—like after marriage. What do you say? — Bill

Dear Bill: Character traits are not inherited in the same way a person inherits curly hair or a turned up nose. Environment, however, does play an important role in the shaping of our basic values. There are so many exceptions that I hesitate to turn thumbs down on this particular gal for fear of doing her an injustice.

Feeling as you do, however, I suggest you look elsewhere for a wife. You'd constantly keep searching for her mother's traits and Lord help her if you found one—real or imagined.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: We are two red-blooded American boys who attend Michigan State. We would appreciate an answer to this question—in the paper.

Recently you printed an interesting letter. A college guy spelled out the five things he and his buddies disliked most about girls:

1. Falsies
2. Girdles
3. False eyelashes
4. Wigs
5. White lipstick

What we want to know is how does a guy find out about these things without getting his face slapped?—Inquisitive But Timid

Dear I. But T.: Since your letter came from East Lansing and not from the New York School For the Blind I would say the answers to at least three out of five of the questions should be perfectly obvious to you. As for the other two—well, they're darned good questions.

Your Problems

14-Year-Old Should Have Had Advice Before First Date

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last night our 14-year-old daughter came home from her first date. We allowed her to go to a movie with a neighborhood boy. When she walked into the house she tried to avoid coming into the living room where her father, Ann Landers, and I were watching TV. She shouted "Hello," and proceeded directly to her room. When I caught up with her it was apparent that she had been doing some necking. Her make-up and hair were a mess, pregnancy, VD and the loss of self-respect. And get busy, mother, you are several years late.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My grandfather used to say, "If you want to see what your sweetheart will look like in 25 years take a good look at her mother."

The girl I go with has always been honest and trustworthy. But I can't stand her mother. She is a liar, a gossip and of low moral character. Twice she has asked to "secretly" borrow $5. Both times I let her have the money. She has never paid me back. (Her daughter knows nothing of this.) Sometimes the daughter will ruin her reputation if she continued to behave this way. She denied she had done anything wrong. Please tell me what to do before this girl gets into serious trouble.—Sick at Heart Mother

Dear Mother: You'd better get busy and start your long-overdue homework. Your daughter should be made to understand the serious hazards of heavy necking. The loss of reputation is the least of it. Tell her about

Teaching Religion to Retarded Topic of Talk

Wisconsin Council Will Sponsor April 11 Event at Sacred Heart Church in Appleton

A workshop on teaching religion to retarded children, sponsored by the religion committee of the Wisconsin Council for Retarded Children, will be held April 11, in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, 1312 S. Monroe St., Appleton.

The workshop is planned for teachers, clergy and parents of all faiths in an 18-county area of northeastern Wisconsin. About 125 persons are expected to attend. Advance registration is required, and must be made by Miss Lois A. Schoenfeld, at the Milwaukee office of the Wisconsin Council for Retarded Children, 1627 N. 34th St., Milwaukee, by April 4. The registration fee is $3.

Workshop Chairman
Miss Schoenfeld is chairman of the workshop. Mrs. Leonard Dale, Appleton, is assistant chairman. The workshop will meet from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The program will include lectures on initiating opportunities in the church to serve the mentally retarded, materials to use and organization, and demonstrations of teaching methods. A special afternoon session will be held for clergymen who need professional help in this field. Dr. M. Arline Albright of Marquette University will conduct a two-hour session in which clergy may ask questions.

Others on Project
Others on the project will be Miss Schoenfeld, a Sunday school teacher for the retarded in Milwaukee, who co-authored the first manual on religion for the retarded in 1959 with Dr. Albright; Mrs. Dale, who wrote "Come Unto Me," a Catholic religion manual for retarded children, and Mrs. Viola Kares, Milwaukee, who has worked with visual aids in this area.

Mrs. John Stevenson, president of the Outagamie County Council for Retarded Children, is inviting pastors in the Fox Valley area to attend the workshop and encouraging them to start classes for retarded children in their churches. Outagamie council will prepare an exhibit for the workshop. Classes for the retarded are conducted in Sacred Heart Catholic and Trinity Lutheran churches in Appleton.

Counties to be covered by the workshop are Outagamie, Winnebago, Calumet, Waupaca, Brown, Portage, Kaukauna, Dodge, Waushara, Manitowish, Marquette, Green Lake, Fond du Lac, Columbia, Sheboygan, Dodge, Washington and Ozaukee.

Traffic Deaths Down In Fox Valley Area; State at Record High

Traffic fatalities in four Fox Valley counties during the first two months of 1964 totaled less than the same period last year. This contrasted with the state record of a new high in highway deaths for January and February.

The motor vehicle department reports 148 lives lost in the two months from traffic accidents compared with 71 during January and February, 1963. Up to March 1, 20 pedestrians were killed in Wisconsin. Last year for the same period the total was 11.

By counties, two traffic deaths were recorded for Outagamie County in the two-month period last year and in 1964. Calumet County had none compared to one in 1963, as did Waupaca County. Winnebago County had three traffic fatalities last year, only one this year in the same period.

'Torch Is Passed' Demand Breaks Records

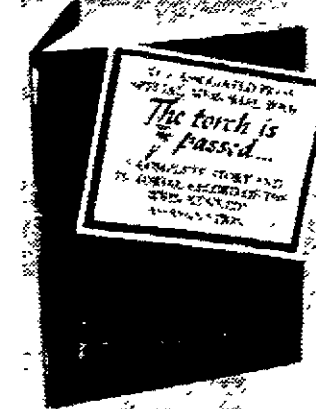

There has been an unprecedented demand for "The Torch Is Passed"—the handsome, hard cover book produced by The Associated Press as a memorable, dramatic account in words and pictures of the assassination of President Kennedy.

In about three months, newspaper readers all over the country have ordered more than 3,000,000 copies, and the orders are still arriving at AP headquarters in New York by the tens of thousands daily.

Presses are running night and day, seven days a week, in a big printing plant at Ploughkeepsie, N. Y., in an effort to catch up with the demand.

There is still plenty of time, however, for you to order your copy. The presses won't stop until all orders have been filled. The books are being sold, for $2 only through Associated Press newspapers, including this one. Fill out the coupon and mail it with your check today.

The book no longer is available at the Appleton Post-Crescent office

THE BOOK INCLUDES:
• Handsome, hard-cover volume.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Gov. College where 350 students turn- John W. Reynolds, who made out to hear him despite heavy his way through a snow storm.

Reynolds, who is entered in the April 7 primary as a favorite son, pledged to President Johnson, closed a round of speeches Wednesday at Whitewater State.

Bobby Baker Case Appears Fading Away

Republicans Voice Faint Hope of More Witnesses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barring an unexpected upheaval, the Senate's investigation of Bobby Baker's dealings appears to have faded away.

Republicans still talked about trying to have a couple of more witnesses called before the Senate Rules Committee, but they voiced only faint hope. Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., said no more hearings were scheduled in the effort to find whether conflict of interest had been involved.

No Uproar
What looked like the end came quietly Wednesday night without any of the partisan uproar that in recent days had brought Republican cries of "whitewash" and Jordan's countercharge of "back-alley politics."

Testimony at Wednesday's hearing produced these highlights about the dealings of Baker, who resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority:

Edward Hugler, a government auditor on loan to the committee, said examination of Baker's federal income tax returns for 1959 through 1962 had shown only "a few discrepancies."

He and another witness, Milton L. Hautf, an accountant who helped Baker prepare his 1961 and 1962 returns, said they could not explain $40,000 of income reported by Baker in 1962.

Hautf also testified that his name had been forged to the 1961 return filed by Baker but that the tax due was correctly reported. He said no attempt had been made to imitate his signature but he didn't know what to call it except forgery.

The committee's investigation centers on how Baker, while on the Senate pay roll at $19,600 a year, acquired a fortune he estimated in excess of $2 million. After Wednesday's testimony, special counsel L. P. McLeDon was asked by newsmen if the hearings were over. "I hope so," he replied, adding work already had been started on a report to the Senate.

MADISON (AP)—Prof. Dale Gilbert was named chairman of the University of Wisconsin School of Music Wednesday, succeeding Samuel Burns who has asked to return to the teaching faculty for the final year before his retirement. Board Backs $59.6 Million Building Plans

3 State Schools, Other Welfare Projects Included

MADISON (AP)—A $59.6 million, six-year building program to begin in 1965 was proposed Wednesday by the State Board of Public Welfare, which said it would seek construction of two more boys' schools and a new girls' school.

The proposal also includes an adult treatment and reception center for the Division of Correction, and a new colony and training school for the mentally retarded.

The projects are subject to approval by the Legislature and the State Building Commission. Wilbur Schmidt, director of the Department of Public Welfare, said there has been no discussion of sites for the new facilities.

Prison Food Service

Developments recommended for the 1965-67 biennium included a $275,000 food service facility at the state prison at Waupun; $6 million for a new boys' school, $622,000 for a new administration building at Winnebago State Hospital, $9 million for an adult reception and treatment center, and $787,000 for building replacement at the state prison.

Major projects for 1967-69 were outlined as the first phase of a medium security prison at a cost of $7.7 million and the first phase of a new girls' school for $5 million.

Recommended for 1969-71 was a second $6 million boys' school and a fourth colony and training school for the mentally retarded, which would cost $8.1 million.

Milwaukee Dinner Speech

Wilkie Says Boyle Jeopardizes Future of Independent Judiciary

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Present for going into "the political Association tabled at a Wednesday State Supreme Court Justice forum." Also critical of Boyle day meeting a resolution which Horace Wilkie said Wednesday was the Milwaukee Junior Bar endorsed Wilkie and said that he had been unfairly attacked.

The Young Republicans of Milwaukee County Wednesday night condemned what the organization called the "unprecedented actions" of the six justices and the Milwaukee Junior Bar for criticizing Boyle.

A resolution approved unanimously said the organization members "affirm the belief that an organization called the Non-Partisan League for an In-Freedom of Speech include the formed Electorate, said a four-right of a citizen to criticize the page letter containing 19 of the decisions of any judicial body, most challenged passages in, particularly a candidate in a "Tropic of Cancer" was being mailed to a list of community judicial election....

The Sheboygan County Bar leaders throughout the state. Wilkie spoke to more than 100 persons attending a $50-a-plate fund raising dinner for him in Milwaukee. Without naming Boyle, Wilkie said it was "tragic when a judge is expected to rule on a preconceived basis of popular will on a particular decision."

The state high court, Wilkie said, will be given its "death knell" if the time ever comes when justices will review a case and "then look out the window and count the votes." He said a court must review cases in "an element of independence and total impartiality."

Same Claims
The same claims were made in an earlier Madison address, by Wilkie, who is seeking his first 10-year term on the Supreme Court. He has been serving under an appointment since 1962.

Wilkie has been under attack by Boyle for joining with the majority in a 4-3 decision which cleared the novel "Tropic of Cancer" for sale in Wisconsin on the ruling that it was not obscene.

Boyle's campaign methods also have been criticized by six other Supreme Court justices, while they were in turn criticized by the remaining incumbent.

Easter Sales Mostly Good In Fox Cities

Stores Attribute Slight Drop to Early Holiday Date

A survey of large and small stores in the Fox Cities shows buying for Easter has been generally good.

Where Easter buying was off from last year, stores attributed the drop mostly to the early date. Most merchants interviewed said their experiences showed post-Easter business was better after an early Easter.

The psychological effect of the income tax cut was credited for national pre-Easter gains. In the Fox Cities, this reflected itself more in hard goods lines rather than in apparel for some department stores. At least one major department store, however, reported very good to excellent business in nearly every category of apparel and shoes that fit the "Easter business" description.

Where Easter sales were favorable, suits, dresses and young persons' dress shoes were strong items. Most merchants agreed weather had been very favorable up to the considerable snowfall, which began Wednesday night.

Merchants evaluating Fox Cities business so far this year generally agreed the area does not follow national sales trends, particularly those of major city areas.

Insurer to Sue Waupaca For $20,000

An insurance firm is attempting to recover approximately $20,000 from Waupaca County by a legal action in which the firm claims the county was negligent in an April, 1961, automobile accident death.

The firm, All State Insurance Co., claimed it had paid $19,000 as a result of the death of James E. Gilkey, a passenger in an automobile which went off Waupaca County Trunk F into the Wolf River.

The firm has claimed the highway department was negligent in not warning motorists that the highway ended at the river, that there had been a barricade but it had been removed, and that there were no stop signs at the end of the road.

The action has been filed in the Outagamie County clerk of courts office.

In two other actions, the insurance firm is attempting to recover $811 for the damage done to the car, owned by John F. March, Aurora, Ill., and $124 for injuries received by a second passenger, Neil Sanders.

Gerald K. Anderson, Waupaca County district attorney, has denied the highway department was negligent in a reply to the carrier firm's suit.

Montgomery Ward President Invited To Visit Appleton

The president of Montgomery Ward and Co. has been invited to visit in Appleton.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell issued a written invitation to John Broecker of Chicago to be his personal guest.

"It has been called to my attention you will be visiting in the Appleton-Neenah-Menasha area the latter part of the month," Mitchell wrote Broecker.

Noting that a Montgomery Ward store is located here, Mitchell invited the executive to come to Appleton.

"Also, we would like to have you see the many educational facilities we have available," Mitchell added.

Trash Collection Hot Issue—Garbage Truck Fires Put Out

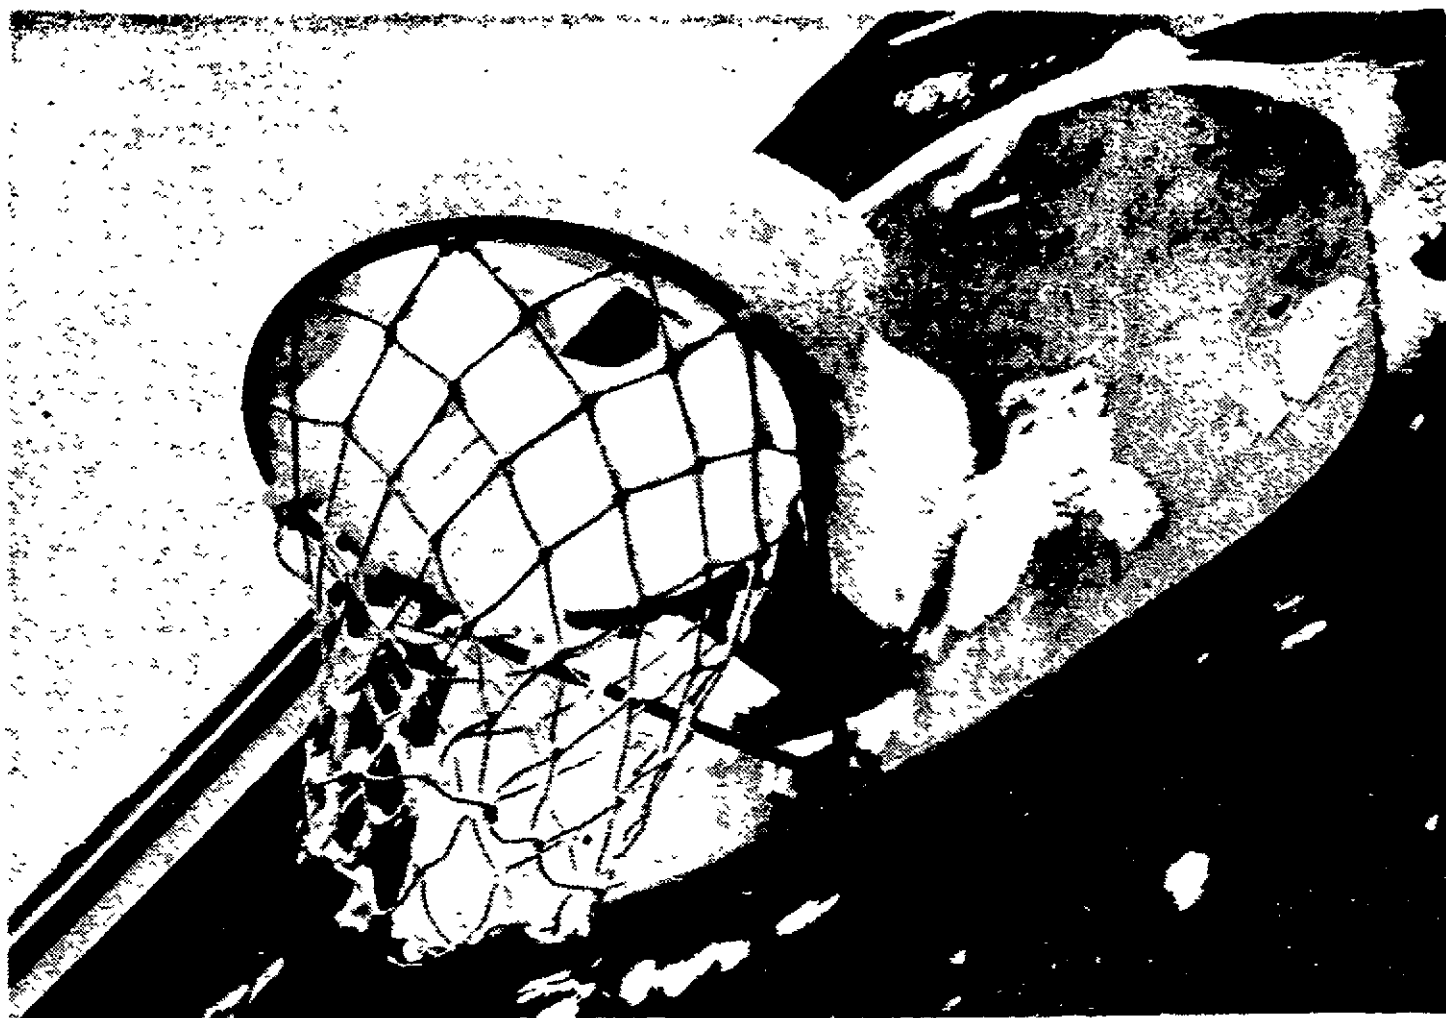

Trash collection has been a hot issue recently. Tuesday the issue needed the help of firemen. Two fires in city-owned garbage trucks were extinguished.

One truck picked up a hot load on the southside about 10 a.m. When it started burning, the driver took the delivery to the fire station at Lawe and Lincoln streets where the fire was put out with water from a garden hose.

About 2 p.m. a truck started on fire in the 2000 block of S. Jefferson Street. A fire truck was called to put out the smoldering rubble.

the property and to construct a shopping center on the site.

Since the corporation offer, an Appleton real estate promoter and a Milwaukee agent have indicated interest in the property. Joseph Engel of Appleton asked the property be put up for bids and the Milwaukee agent, unidentified, indicated he will make an offer to the city for the property.

The official appraisal of the property has been put at $116,500.

1960 Suit An attempt to dispose of the property in 1960 was blocked by a taxpayer's suit against the city. However, at that time the city negotiated the property release without consideration by the planning commission.

Council will decide April 8 whether it will sell the property or retain it. Several aldermen are advocating construction of a municipal building on the site.

Earl Kohler, candidate for mayor opposing Mayor Klein, has said he will file a taxpayer's suit to block the sale if the Council should vote to sell the property.

Miss Gorski Wins Third Latin Award

Mary Kay Gorski, a 1963 Xavier High School graduate, has won top honors for the third year in succession in a nationwide Latin contest sponsored by the Association for the Promotion of the Study of Latin.

Miss Gorski received a gold medal with her name inscribed. To win this award, a student must have a score of 115 or higher out of a possible 120 points on the test. Last year she scored 118.

She is the first Xavier student to win the award for three successive years. Her Latin teachers at Xavier were Sister Georgetta for the first year and Sister Leah Marie for the last two years.

Menasha High Cagers Honor Two Seniors

Mark Pawlowski 'Most Valuable' On Bluejay Five

MENASHA — Mark Pawlowski was named the most valuable player on the Menasha Bluejay basketball team and he and Pat Kenney were selected by their teammates as honorary co-captains. It was announced at a basketball awards assembly Wednesday afternoon.

Pawlowski received his third letter, Walter, Conway and Kenney their second and the others were honored for the first time. Jayvee coach Leo Kenney presented minor awards to Dan Hanson and Bob Smarzinski, juniors, and Wayne Domkoski, Preston Alvadj, Dave Christensen, Mike Knoll, Ken Melson, Paul Blohm, Jim Bauhs, Dave Johnson, Pat Conway, Jim Weyenberg and Floyd Coons, sophomores and managers John Herziger and George Fucik.

Each of the varsity players Coach Clem Massey remarked: Mark Pawlowski — Tremendous leader. Had 329 rebounds or 220 more than the 1963 leader. An unselfish player who led the team in scoring but ranked third in shots taken. Hub of the Jays' offense.

Pat Kenney — Great improvement over last year. Played as well as any guard he's ever seen in the victory at Kimberly. Became the No. 1 guard when Barry Conway was hurt during the year. Most pride of any boy on the squad. Good job against Kimberly in tournament.

Jim Walter — Coach's dream. Starter last year but lost regular status when strong rebounding underclassmen came along. Excellent job against Kimberly in tournament. Excellent student.

Darrell Redmond — "Dunk" shot artist who made Pawlowski a fine ball player because he had to guard him in practice.

Dick Slattery — Potential greatness — Jumps well. Played behind the best center in the league.

Dick Sorensen — One of best "money" players school ever had as exhibited with clutch free throw shooting in tournament.

Rick Zimmerman — One of best shooters on squad. Pressed into regular status when Conway was hurt. Improving on defense.

Terry Haack — Has great speed, quickness, hustle. Should be regular or close to it next year.

Rod Richter — Worked hard in practice.

John Martin — Excellent shooter.

Don Steffin — One of many keys to successful season. Highest scoring sophomore in school's history.

Tom Vanderhyden — No. 3 guard most of the season. Has potential to be tremendous ball player.

Jayvee coach Leo Kenney said because of the current jayvee team, Menasha is assured of two more good years of basketball and his only regrets were that he was able to use all of the boys more and "Neenah beat us twice."

Seek Review of Clintonville Port Recommendations

Airline, CAB Bureau Claim Potential Was Overestimated

WASHINGTON — Both North Central Airlines and the Civil Aeronautics Board's Bureau of Economic Regulation Wednesday filed requests with the board to review examiner Edward T. Stodola's Green Bay, Clintonville air service recommendations.

Stodola had recommended that Clintonville use its own airport rather than requiring all air service to go through Green Bay.

Both the airline and the CAB bureau recommend that Clintonville's air traffic go through Green Bay.

In its request for a review, the Bureau of Economic Regulation claims that Stodola overestimated Clintonville's air cargo potential and that the city would receive better air service by using Green Bay exclusively.

Use Green Bay Facilities

Half of Clintonville's passengers are already using Austin-Straubel Field in Green Bay, the bureau's counsel argued.

North Central said Clintonville's primary interest in air service is passenger service which can be obtained through Green Bay rather than its own port.

The airline argued that the little traffic remaining in Clintonville doesn't justify spending $300,000 to upgrade the airport.

Although Clintonville is its original home, North Central said, this does not justify the community using its own airport when it could get faster and better service at Green Bay which is close enough to make it practical.

Attorney for Clay Sponsors To be Quizzed

Underworld Figures Still Around Liston, Senate Probers Find

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators continue today their probe of professional boxing spurred by reports of underworld figures still hanging around dethroned world heavyweight champion Sonny Liston.

Scheduled to appear before the Senate antitrust subcommittee were Gordon B. Davidson, attorney for the Louisville, Ky., citizens group that sponsors Cassius Clay, and Bob Nilon, brother of Jack Nilon. Liston's business adviser.

Jack Nilon told the hearing Wednesday that he asked no questions when Liston said he wanted to sign over valuable stock to Sam Margolis, a Philadelphia vending machine operator and close friend of Liston for years.

Margolis, according to previous testimony, once owned an apartment house jointly with racketeer Frank (Blinky) Palermo.

Nilon said he thought Margolis was entitled to the stock for setting up a deal for promoting Liston's fights. He said that under the arrangement between Margolis and Liston the fighter was to receive a half interest in their joint firm. However, Liston apparently signed over more than half of his shares to Margolis without any compensation.

Nilon said Liston told him that was the way he wanted it.

Nilon also told the committee that Joe Pep Barone, an underworld figure who once managed Liston, was sent for by the fighter before his bout with Clay.

Davidson wound up Wednesday's session before the committee by outlining the contract under which Clay operates with the Louisville group backing him.

Davidson said that as a result of the revelations of hearings held by the Senate subcommittee in 1960, which disclosed that Liston's contract at that time was controlled by underworld figures, the Louisville group was determined to get Clay — a home town boy who had just won an Olympic boxing championship — off to a good start as a professional.

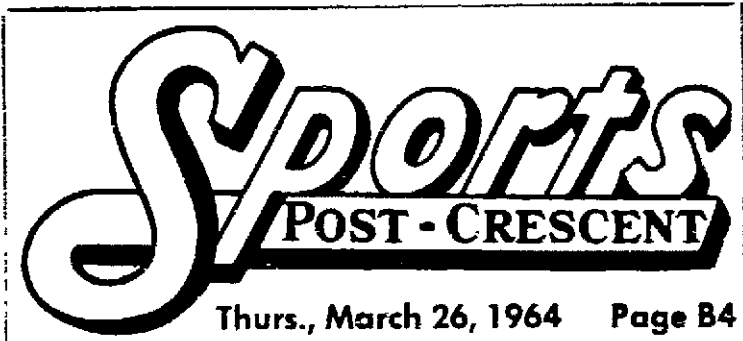

As a result of the Louisville group's contract with Clay, Davidson said, Clay never has had to hold down a job, as some fighters do, since turning professional in October 1960.

Davidson said that 15 per cent of Clay's earnings are being put in a trust fund to help take care of him when he quits professional boxing.

Desires Screens in Outfield

Finley Proposes Way To Halt Yankee Bats

CHICAGO (AP) — Owner Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City A's thinks the best way to silence New York Yankee bats is to build a screen around the field.

The controversial A's owner, disclosed in an interview Wednesday he has urged an immediate meeting of American League club owners to compel erecting of screens in Yankee Stadium's left and right field corners to make them equivalent to 325-foot foul lines.

Finley said he asked for the meeting in a March 20 letter to league President Joe Cronin, contending the Yankees' 296-foot right field and 301-foot left field foul lines were "grossly unfair" to the league's other nine clubs.

The letter included a Finley survey stating the Yankees have belted 2,143 home runs against 1,345 by opponents at Yankee Stadium in the past 28 years.

Short Homers

He inferred that short foul line homers had a lot to do with the Yankees compiling 1,458 victories against only 707 defeats in this span during which the Yankees won 21 pennants.

"We'll see the Yankees win 21 of the next 28 pennants and kill attendance with runaway races if we owners in the American League don't wake up and stop those easy Yankee Stadium home runs," Finley said.

Finley said the baseball code required any new stadium built after 1958 to have a minimum of 325 feet from home plate to the nearest fence.

At Kansas City's Municipal Stadium, which Finley rented again after a winter-long battle with city officials the foul lines City A's thinks the best way to measure 331 down left field and silence New York Yankee bats' 337 down right field, surround is to build a screen around by a 10-foot wall.

Although Baltimore's oval shaped Memorial Stadium has 369-foot foul lines, Finley said the backing walls are 14 feet high.

"Every park except Yankee Stadium has retaining walls measured in feet," he said, "but at Yankee Stadium they are measured in inches — 43-45 inches in that shallow right field 'front porch' and 43-51 inches in the left field corner."

"Through the years, the Yankees have had pull hitters to take advantage of those short foul lines—Ruh, Selkirk, Henrich, Mize, Berra, Mantle, Maris and Howard.

The Yankees' playing field advantage is one of the greatest injustices in the history of American sports."

Finley minimized his ailment and said he was looking forward to the Olympic Games in October in Tokyo.

Minnesota Pelts Peters, Chisox, 7-5

Walter Bond is a conditional Houston Colt. That, some may say, is better than being a full-fledged Colt. He still has a chance to get away if he's had enough.

But Walter doesn't agree. That, he says, is better than being a Cleveland Indian, and he's putting all of his 6-foot-6 and 240 pounds into being good enough to stay that way.

The Colts purchased Bond from Cleveland during the winter on a conditional basis. Now he's making a strong bid to start the season in the Houston outfield.

He powered a two-run homer in the seventh inning Wednesday, boosting the Colts to a 4-3 triumph over Detroit. Until now the 26-year-old Tennessee native has been good enough to play in only 90 games since he first reached the major leagues in 1960.

"They never gave me a chance," Bond contends. "They just kept me in the minors."

Bond's major league appearances dwindled each year he was with the Indians. He played in 40 games in 1960, 38 in 1961 and 12 in September, 1962. Despite six home runs and 17 runs batted in during his briefest season, he didn't see much other than Jacksonville of the International League last year.

"Other clubs wanted to buy me, but they refused," he asserted. "They wanted me to play for them in the minors."

With Jacksonville, Bond batted .276, his worst average for a minor league season, but he socked 25 home runs, a total he believes he can reach in the majors.

Considering that the Colts hit .276 in 1963, Col. 6

McDermott Says U. S. Should Alter Olympic Financial Rules

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP) — Terry McDermott, America's only gold medal winner in the Winter Olympics, said Wednesday other nations believe "we are fools" to try and field an Olympic team under current U.S. amateur rules.

The Essexville, Mich., barber made the remarks at a dinner during Terry McDermott Day festivities in Sault Ste. Marie.

McDermott called for a rules change to allow adequate financial support of U.S. Olympic athletes. He braced his argument by citing his own example of having to be away from his business for 13 weeks. The Olympic speedskating champion said his expenses covered only room, board and transportation. He added that uniforms were furnished, usually by manufacturers.

McDermott also urged adequate training facilities. He said that there is no 400-meter speedskating course in the United States. He said Moscow has 40 such courses within the city limits.

About 200 persons attended the banquet honoring the 23-year-old McDermott.

Former Shortstop For Fox Cities Was Scared at First

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — It was just five years ago that a still have to yell advice to me, brash youngster strode jauntily into the camp of the Washington Senators and proclaimed that he would like to do my own thing, going to run the regular in shortstop right off the club.

Only 18 and fresh from Cuba, the youngster did not speak a word of English. It proved no handicap. He made himself understood through an interpreter.

"Only Luis Aparicio is better shortstop," the kid bragged. "I will be best in three-four years."

Zoilo Versailles, now firmly established as the regular shortstop of the Minnesota Twins, formerly the Washington Senators, recalled that spring vividly.

"I was only a boy," he said apologetically. "I was so excited, with much much enthusiasm. Maybe I was too cocky but I was a nobody. I had nobody to push me. I had to push myself."

Believe You're Best
"I was all alone and I was scared. I had to say things to give me confidence. In Cuba, my brother advise me what to do and what to say. I remember when I was 15, I ask my brother, 'Do you think I can be best shortstop in the world?' And he said to me, 'First you have to believe you're the best.'"

Versalles didn't stick with the Senators. He was shipped to Fox Cities, and the next year to Charleston. But he kept insisting he was good and some day would be the best.

"I had to build up my confidence," he said. "So I kept talking, telling everybody I could really talk to myself, trying to make me believe it."

Versalles' ambition to achieve stature finally was realized last year. He beat out his idol, Aparicio, for the All-Star shortstop berth. He was also named by the players as the American League's best fielding shortstop.

His batting average was .251 but he led the league with 13 triples.

Not the Best
"Please don't write that I am the best," he pleaded. "I am with the Nankai Hawks in Japan. Some day maybe but now I am not yet even as established as major league shortstop."

Milwaukee Posts Fifth Win in Row

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves, fresh from a smash performance against the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers at Vero Beach, were back home today, attempting to add to their exhibition victory string.

The Braves made it five triumphs in a row and eight in 10 games by pounding out 13 hits in an 8-3 decision over the Dodgers Wednesday. The Braves started strong by manhandling Sandy Koufax, the National League's most valuable player in 1963, and once they had disposed of him kept right on going.

The Braves were set to entertain the Cincinnati Reds under the lights tonight. Good Friday is an open date, and on Saturday Milwaukee starts a four-game swing in western Florida.

Lusterless Performance

Koufax turned in his second straight lusterless performance, allowing six hits and three runs. The Braves scored their last three runs in the final inning at the expense of Nick Willhite.

Milwaukee's 13-hit attack included four doubles and three triples to make seven-hit pitching by Dan Schneider, Frank Funk and Phil Niekro stand up. Schneider, a young southpaw held the Dodgers hitless in his starting three-inning stint.

Singles by Lee Maye, Ed Mathews and Gene Oliver gave Milwaukee a run in the first inning. They added two more in the third on a walk for Hank Aaron, a triple by Mathews and a double by Ed Bailey.

Koufax was excused after that and Bob Miller took a turn, surrendering a run in the fifth on a walk for Rico Carty and a triple by Ethan Blackaby.

Phil Ortega was on the mound in the eighth when Tommie Aaron drove a triple to left center and scored when Dick Tracewski dropped a bunt pop up by Woody Woodward.

Carty Doubles

Ty Cline opened the ninth with a single, stole second and scored on Carty's double. Carty got home on a triple by Ossie Virgil and he crossed the plate on a single by Tommie Aaron.

Funk had allowed only a single hit until the sixth when Doug Camilli doubled and Maury Wills beat out a bunt. A sacrifice by Tracewski scored the first run and doubles by the Davies, Willie and Tommie, completed the Dodger scoring.

The Braves pitching duties in tonight's game were assigned to Hank Fischer and Dick Kelley. At Vero Beach, Fla.

San Francisco's Starting Line-Up May Include 2 Rookies

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The San Francisco Giants probably still don't have as much pitching as the Los Angeles Dodgers. But they have more of just about everything else and must be given a good chance of turning the tide in the new season. The other is third baseman Jim Hart, whose ability to hit seems better established than his ability to avoid being hit.

Alou Key Man — The Giants unquestionably more essential to the Giants' success than Alou. Hart replaces when they acquired right-hander Bob Shaw and left-hander Bob Hendley from Milwaukee in a six-player deal last December. And, if young Jesus Alou can hit as well as the Giants suspect, they may not have sacrificed too much offense when they let his older brother Felipe go to Milwaukee in the same deal.

Commission Seeks Foe for Cassius Clay

New York State Plans to Set Up Eliminations

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York State Athletic Commission's plan to set up an elimination tournament for heavyweight challengers already has stirred up some action to pit top contenders against each other. The commission wants to line up an opponent for heavyweight champion Cassius Clay.

Even before Gen. Melvin Krulewitz, chairman of the commission, could formalize his scheme at a meeting today, a bid was made by Madison Square Garden for a fight between former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson and Cleveland Williams.

Harry Markson, director of boxing for the Garden, wired Patterson an offer of 35 per cent of the gate and television receipts to meet Williams, a hard hitter from Houston, the week of June 22.

Gary Peters Nearly Became Teacher Instead of Pitcher

BY MIKE RATHET SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Left-hander Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox, American ball, League Rookie of the Year, was headed for a school teaching curve ball and a slider in the job when he suddenly turned from an absent-minded professor into the pitching sensation of the 1963 season. "I had forgotten my fast for his reaction, but in the past he has ducked the belt with a few exceptions.

As cutdown day drew near, Peters had an 0-2 record and was in jeopardy of being sent back to the minors for the fifth time with his options all used. "It's hard to say now just what I would have done," said Peters. "I might have quit. It all depends on what had happened. If someone else picked me up, I probably would have finished the year with them and then decided. But for a while I sure felt I'd be teaching school.

"Then more or less everything came together," Peters continued. "I got a chance to start against Kansas City and I won. That helped. I started throwing hard and now I had the curve and slider to go with it and everything went good."

Things went so good that from July 11 to August 29 Peters won 11 straight games. The 26-year-old southpaw finished the season with a 19-8 record and a league-leading 2.3 earned run average. Then he topped it all off by edging teammate Pete Ward for rookie laurels.

Peters was slowed somewhat this spring by an inflamer tendon but now is back in form, working again on the methodical motion that apparently baffles batters. He has sort of a hesitation stop just before he fires toward the plate that gives him an awkward-appearing style.

Wildcats Cadets Win Crowns in ARD Tourney

The Cadets nipped the Trashmen, 18-16, for the sixth grade title in the Appleton Recreation Department-sponsored city tournament. The Wildcats edged the Jr. Hawks, 15-13, for the fifth grade crown.

Akron Upsets Phillips 66ers For AAU Title

Tennessee State Captures Third In Denver Meet

DENVER (AP) — The National AAU basketball championship has passed from 11-time-winner Phillips 66 to the Goodyear Wingfoots of Akron, Ohio who never had it before.

Akron twice came from eight points behind in Wednesday's championship game to give Phillips a decisive beating, 85-73.

Phillips, of Bartlesville, Okla., had been seeded first, and Akron second in the 16-team tournament.

Third place went to Tennessee State University, a team that became a favorite of spectators because of its flashy shooting.

Characteristically, its victory Wednesday came on two 25-foot jump shots, beating Federal Old Line Life of Seattle, 90-85.

Phillips led 41-39 at halftime in the big game, and the score was tied 16 times. Lloyd Sharar of Goodyear grabbed a rebound and sank a field goal to break a 66-66 tie in the last five minutes and put his team ahead to stay.

Pete McCaffrey of the Goodyears netted 19 field goals and four free throws for 24 points and the scoring lead. Jerry Shipp of Phillips was two free throws behind with 22 points.

UCLA Meets All-Stars in LA Tonight

Hazzard Picked as 'Player of Year,' Bradley to Play

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A formidable collection of college all-stars attempt Thursday night to do what no team could do all season—defeat the UCLA basketball team.

The unbeaten wonders of Coach Johnny Wooden open a series of games with the all-stars leading up to final trials for the Olympic Games.

Wooden will lead off with the same five main stars who won 30 straight games and the national championship—Walt Hazzard, Gail Goodrich, Fred Slaughter, Jack Hirsch and Keith Erickson.

Hazzard, captain and playmaker for the UCLA team, gained added laurels Wednesday when the U.S. Basketball Writers Association named him Player of the Year.

Coach Slat Gill of Oregon State, guiding the all-stars, listed as starters forwards Wichita's Dave Stallworth and Princeton's Bill Bradley, center Mel Counts of Oregon State and guards Villanova's Wally Jones and Duke's Jeff Mullens.

Howard Komives of Bowling Green, the nation's top scorer, and Creighton's Paul Silas, the nation's leading rebounder for three straight years, also decorated the all-stars' bench.

Rounding out the group are Cazzie Russell of Michigan, Utah's State's Wayne Estes and Fred Hetzel of Davidson.

Half of Clay's Purse Held Up, Probers Learn

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators learned today that half of Cassius Clay's purse from the heavyweight title fight said, "we don't like it, but we will fight it." The fight without the rematch would create a federal boxing czar. They will resume Monday.

Liston's business adviser is Jack Nilon.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A side-Cuban exile offers two kinds of coffee on the menu: "Cuban" or "Imperialist fugee" to get around the ban on the championship after Liston Yankee.

Expect Decision in 10 Days On Televising of Olympics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. by means of Syncom will be satisfactory, there are two other problems involved:

1. Modifications in a U.S. government-owned ground station on the West Coast.
2. Appropriate transmitting facilities in Japan.

An inter-agency committee met last week on the question of the U.S. television network, which would be expected to share in the cost.

The decision will be based on the outcome of a test film using Syncom II which is now in orbit at 22,300 nautical miles above the earth. Picture quality will be examined to determine if the reception will be satisfactory.

Due to Launch

The United States is due to launch Syncom III in early May and the reception from this satellite is expected to be better than from Syncom II because it will have a broader band width.

Assuming that the reception elite function as they should.

Dixie Baptists Asked to Back Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called upon Protestant leaders of the South Wednesday to fight for a strong civil rights bill through their preaching and examples.

Addressing some 150 participants in a Christian leadership seminar sponsored by the Southern Baptist Convention, Johnson said:

"No group of Christians has more responsibility in civil rights than the Southern Baptists."

The President, who drew warm applause following his speech in the Rose Garden outside his office, told the Baptist clergymen that "the power structure" of the South attends their churches and is represented by the examples set by the clergy.

Johnson said the beliefs of community leaders "are confirmed or changed by the sermons you preach," as well as by the examples set by the clergy.

"This cause of human dignity, this cause of human rights," Johnson said, "demands prophets in our times."

He said the clergymen of the South must be willing to take a progressive position on the civil rights issue, even if members of their congregations disapprove.

U. S. Hoard Dwindling

Silver Value Upped by Supply in Demand

BY SAM DAWSON
The U. S. Treasury's silver dollar—redeemable in the U. S. Treasury's silver dollar—was replaced by the new Kennedy half-dollar. The Treasury wants to use the rest help send the metal's price still of its fast dwindling hoard of the metal for minting smaller coins.

Industrial users here have coins. The demand for them has been growing smartly, with a value of 1.293 an ounce spot shortages in various regions from time to time.

The run on silver dollars at the Treasury was sparked by the new demand for silver coins, the dwindling supply of the contracts well above the monetary value.

The cartwheel contains 0.77 of an ounce of silver. At $1.29 an ounce this makes the silver in a metal dollar worth $1 in the metal market.

The price has climbed from 91.6 cents an ounce in 1961 chiefly because worldwide demand for coinage, electronic and other industrial uses, has been running well above world production. The U. S. Treasury's once huge store has dropped sharply.

"Now the United States is slowly redeeming outstanding silver"

Today in History

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, March 26, 1964. There are 289 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1913, great floods devastated Ohio and Indiana. More than 3,000 persons lost their lives and property damage was more than $50 million.

On this date: In 1804, the Louisiana Purchase was divided into the territory of Orleans and the territory of Louisiana.

In 1945, seven Allied armies were advancing east of the Rhine against disorganized German resistance.

Ten years ago — West German President Theodor Heuss signed the rearmament amendment to the constitution approved by the United States, Britain and France and eliminating any doubt of the legality of the peace pact with the Western Allies.

Five years ago — The Western Big Three formally invited the Soviet Union to join a foreign ministers conference on Germany's future.

One year ago — The United States and Russia resumed talks in Washington on the Berlin question that had been interrupted by the Cuban crisis of 1962.

Registration of Motor Vehicle Sets Record During 1963

Motor vehicle registrations in Wisconsin last year set a new record high, as they have every year since World War II, says James L. Karns, motor vehicle commissioner.

During 1963, the department registered a total of 120,180 vehicles from Outagamie, Calumet, Winnebago and Waupaca counties. Total receipts from the same four counties were $3,137,253.

Vehicle registrations for the state totaled 1,785,149 in 1963. Of these, 1,433,959 were automobiles. The rest were for trucks, government vehicles, trailers, motorcycles and buses.

A portion of each vehicle fee is returned to the city, village or town tax district where the vehicle is kept. On autos, farm trucks, milk haulers, motorcycles, buses and government vehicles it is a 20 per cent portion. On other trucks it is 11 per cent. The remainder of the fee total goes to the state highway fund.

Four Referendums On April's Ballot

Voters Are Asked to Advise on A Complex Road Financing Plan

BY FRANK CREPEAU
MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin voters on April 7 are asked to advise the State Legislature on the complex and politically-loaded question of whether the state should borrow money and increase gasoline taxes to finance an accelerated highway building program.

The referendum on highways is one of four on the ballot and is designed to test Wisconsin voter opinion on Gov. John W. Reynolds' road building program. But when lawmakers reconvene April 13 each will have scrutinized the voting in his district and will be guided by it.

The accelerated highway program was advanced by the Democratic governor, but the question before voters was drafted by the Republican-controlled Legislature which refused to act on the plan in December.

After seeing the question, Reynolds said it invites a "no" vote, and the referendum is "doomed."

Voters will be asked to vote "yes" or "no" on the following question:

"Do you favor a 1 cent per gallon increase of the tax on gasoline and other motor fuels to pay the principal and interest on money to be borrowed by a new state building corporation to speed up the construction of Wisconsin state and interstate highways?"

The highway referendum is easily the most controversial on the ballot, although entry of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace in the presidential primary has diverted some public attention from the highway question.

Highway Referendum
Whatever the outcome of the highway referendum, it will be accelerated program would stimulate the Legislature to interpret industrial development and the vote and act on any accelerated economic growth in the state.

help the tourist industry and reduce highway fatalities.

Reynolds original plan would have:

Set up a new state building corporation to borrow money for a system of freeways with the loan paid off by increased auto and truck registration fees.

Used short-term borrowing to complete Wisconsin's interstate system five years ahead of schedule.

The aim was to gain immediate use of federal interstate funds that would be paid to Wisconsin between 1966 and 1972. The state would have paid the interest costs.

Gasoline Tax

In the face of Legislative opposition, Reynolds worked out a scaled-down version of the program in November. The financing would be by a penny-a-gallon gasoline tax increase instead of an increase in registration fees and financing would be either by borrowing or on a pay-as-you-go basis out of current revenues.

The substitute also would set up a freeway commission to decide on which four-lane highways should get priority in construction plans.

But the Legislature's Republican majority decided at a special December session to put the question before Wisconsin voters.

Opposition to the referendum has been strong and has centered on the question of borrowing and of increasing the gasoline tax from 6 to 7 cents a gallon.

While Reynolds contends Wisconsin's highways are lagging behind needs, foes of the referendum argue that the state has a sound and adequate system of roads and that a crash program, which would invite waste and inefficiency, is not needed.

Deficit Financing

Some opponents, such as the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce, are against deficit financing and say that interest charges on borrowed money will eat up funds that should be used for highway construction.

Reynolds has countered that Wisconsin is the only industrial state that has not gone into a bonding program for highways, and that borrowing through a state corporation is the same method Wisconsin is using to finance its building program for classrooms and state institutions.

The petroleum interests oppose the gasoline tax increase and say it is unfair to use motorists' tax dollars to finance a program of industrial and recreational development and that Wisconsin gasoline taxes would be higher than those of neighboring states.

Industry Support

The road building industry has supported the program. However, opponents argue that the construction industry will not stand for or against the program in the long run because

Achievement to Be Reviewed by Ripon President

Dr. Fred O. Pinkham, president of Ripon College, will discuss achievements and projected plans for the college with Fox Valley alumni at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 2, in the Home Mutual Insurance Co. Building, 1001 W. Foster St.

James Powers, 974 Baldwin St., Neenah, a Ripon graduate, is in charge of arrangements for the meeting and will serve as host.

Dr. Pinkham will base his discussion on a recent progress report to trustees, the faculty and the alumni board of directors. Achievements he reported included more students from more states than ever before, two new majors in Russian and Latin American studies, a new course in "Great Works of Eastern Literature," an expanded and remodeled grill, book shop and student lounge in the Student Union, an undefeated football team and the conference championship, a basketball team that won an undisputed Midwest Conference title for the first time in 24 years, and a successful College Bowl team that brought five weeks of national attention.

Mrs. George Thyssen, second from left, examines the football autographed by the Green Bay Packers she won at the St. John Parish dinner in Little Chute recently. From left, standing, are Joseph VanderBurg, toastmaster, Mrs. Thyssen, Fabian Ourada, Holy Name president, and Den Hermen, program chairman. Seated, from left, are Vic Miller, St. Nazianz attorney, and The Rev. LeRoy Hogan, parish spiritual director and temporary pastor. (Vanderloop Photo)

- What are the two most important gases in the air?
- What percentage of the world's land consists of mountains, deserts, swamps, frozen tundra, and other wasteland?
- What was the "manna" of the Israelites, mentioned in the Bible?
- Where is the world's largest civil airport, so far as number of acres?

Answers

- Nitrogen and oxygen, with the former making up slightly more than 78 per cent of dry air by volume, oxygen accounting for nearly 21 per cent. The remaining one per cent of air consists almost entirely of the gas, argon.
- Almost 50 per cent.
- This is believed to have been a saccharine substance exuding from the bark of the tamarisk when the surface was punctured by insects. This substance has a yellowish color and a honey-like odor.
- Washington International Airport, which covers more than 9,000 acres.

Human Trials Slated for New Drugs

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Fifteen new and potentially valuable drugs against female breast cancer—uncovered by a new radioactive screening technique — are soon to undergo extensive human trials.

"We are awaiting the results with considerable excitement," than the best hormone now said Dr. Ralph I. Dorfman of available for clinical use Shrewsbury, Mass., one of a team of scientists who developed the new drug screening method and also submitted the activity of "the same order" as new drugs to early preliminary trials.

New Developments

Dr. Dorfman, of the Worcester (Mass.) Foundation for Experimental Biology, told about the new developments at the sixth annual seminar for scientists sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Asserting that the new drugs are all synthetic preparations chemically related to the male hormone testosterone—the first hormone used in treating female breast cancer—the scientist said:

—Two of the drugs, as indicated by early animal and human backed program for evaluating trials, are as good or better than the best hormone now said Dr. Ralph I. Dorfman of available for clinical use Shrewsbury, Mass., one of a team of scientists who developed the new drug screening method and also submitted the activity of "the same order" as new drugs to early preliminary trials.

Antitumor Activity

—Six others possess antitumor activity.

The scientist indicated, however, that none of the new drugs was expected to cure a cancer—though some might extend the survival times beyond present limits in cases not curable by surgery or radiation.

He said the results have been so promising that the complex hormone testosterone are to be subjected to widespread human testing at least six centers in the national network of hospitals participating in a government-backed program for evaluating various anticancer drugs.

Detectives Ambush Robbers
As They Flee With $13,000

CHICAGO (AP) — A gunman the stolen cash, which was described as extremely dan- dropped by one of the fleeing ger's eluded police after a gun battle in which detectives killed three of his companions during a holdup Wednesday at a National Tea Co. store.

Nine detectives, staked out in unmarked cars and a taxi, ambushed the men as they fled the southwest grocery carrying $13,000 delivered minutes earlier by an armored express truck.

The gunmen managed to reach their getaway car, where the fourth man was but the auto bo down in mud a short distance away as they tried to evade pursuing officers. The robbers scrambled in the car, guns blazing, and police returned a withering fire.

All Cash Recovered

One robber was fatally shot as he raced across a nearby front lawn. Two others were killed as they dashed through gangways between homes in the residential area. Police recovered all.

Over 42,000 ROK Students Stage Protests

Demonstrate in 10
Cities Against
Jap Negotiations

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — More than 42,000 students demonstrated in 10 Korean cities today against the government's negotiations to normalize relations with Japan, but President Chung Hee Park vowed to continue the talks in Tokyo no matter how many turn out.

Backed by armed troops, Park went on the air with an appeal for calm in the face of the biggest outpouring of students since the public rioting brought down President Syngman Rhee in April 1960.

Park told the students they were playing into the hands of Communist agitators by persisting in their demonstrations, now in their third day.

Talks Continue

But he stressed that the diplomatic talks in Tokyo will continue and he promised to settle differences with Japan, Korea's overlord for 36 years until the end of World War II, "only on terms most favorable to us."

As he made the radio broadcast, 20,000 students surged through the streets of Seoul chanting anti-Japanese slogans, and denouncing South Korea's Japan policy as "humiliating diplomacy." An estimated 22,000 others clogged the streets of nine smaller cities.

Most of the demonstrations were peaceful, but in Seoul several hundred students tried to break through barricades across approaches to the presidential palace. Steel-helmeted troops drove them back with swinging rifle butts. Several students were injured.

The students, most of them of high school age, only got a half mile from the hillside palace.

The negotiations to normalize relations between Japan and South Korea have been dragging on for years, but recently Park and Japanese Premier Hayato Ikeda have been making a determined effort to bring them to a successful conclusion.

Fox Valley Plows Out From 9-Inch Snowfall

Other Parts Of U. S. Have Bad Storms

BY TOM RICHARDS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Fox River Valley plowed its way through nine inches of snow today while other parts of the nation recovered from violent storms which injured more than a score of persons.

Minor automobile accidents in which snow slick streets were a factor injured one person in Appleton and two in Outagamie County.

In most areas of the Valley, children missed what probably would have been their last chance of the season for a day off from school because of weather. They were already recessed for Easter.

However, Bethel Lutheran School, Menasha, was to have been open today, but closed because of the snow.

Plowing, Salting

Road crews began plowing, salting and sanding Wednesday afternoon and early today.

Winds, which reached a peak of 30 miles per hour, whipped the light snow into drifts more than four feet high. By mid-morning, major thoroughfares had been plowed, but officials were concerned winds would blow the feathery snow back into drifts on highways, and cause a need for repaving.

U.S. Weather Bureau officials at Austin Straubel Field in Green Bay said fresh northerly winds this afternoon would diminish tonight.

They said snow would end this afternoon as skies cleared and temperatures became colder. Low readings tonight were to be near 6 after early morning lows today of 15. Friday will be fair and cold with a high near 24.

Warmer Easter

The Easter forecast calls for some warming and clear skies.

Today's storm was attributed to a low pressure area which moved north from Texas, producing snow in the Fox Valley, and rain further south. The weatherman said the storm moved further north than had been expected.

Snow and wind did some mil-

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — and it was one of these — An explosion ripped through the steward, M. Dotilla—who died American tanker San Jacinto apparently of natural causes.

Others Stay Aboard

The others remained aboard the bobbing stern section and rejected plans to be lifted off by helicopter.

A light rain was falling over the area, and the skies were overcast.

The Coast Guard said the 35 of the 37 crewmen, radioed Mobile Pegasus had been released from the scene and had started on its way.

The explosion occurred at 12:45 a.m. about 40 miles off the coast. The San Jacinto was in ballast, en route from Portland, Maine, to Houston, Tex., and expelling fumes from its tanks.

Senate Votes To Take Up Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, breaking a deadlock lasting since March 9, voted today to take up for formal consideration the House-passed civil rights bill.

Southerners, who have used the motion to take up as the basis for lengthy speeches bitterly attacking the bill itself, finally let the vote come on the 17th day of the debate.

The motion, made by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, passed overwhelmingly as expected. The roll call vote was 67-17.

Sen. Proxmire of Wisconsin voted with the majority. Sen. Nelson was not listed as voting.

The Senate met today at 9 a.m., three hours ahead of its usual time, and the roll call came without any further speech-making.

This first vote cleared the way for a motion by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to send the bill to the Senate Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., for 10 days of hearings and study.

Democratic leaders planned to try to kill this move with a tabling motion later today but expected the outcome to be close.

British Jury Convicts 9 Men in Mail Train Robbery

Judge Defers Sentence Until
After Trial of 8 Other Persons

AYLESBURY, England (AP) — A jury found nine men guilty today on charges of taking part in Britain's great train robbery — the theft of $7,345,000 from the Glasgow-London mail train last Aug. 8.

A 10th man was found guilty of conspiring to obstruct the course of justice.

Judge Edmund Davies said he would defer sentencing the convicted men until after the trial of eight other persons accused of complicity in the giant money snatch, the largest cash robbery in the annals of world crime.

The eight awaiting trial — including three women — were granted separate trials when the case was brought to court in January. Another defendant pleaded guilty and still another got a directed verdict of acquittal during the trial.

Masterminds Sought

The police have so far recovered only 258,000 pounds ($722,400) of the loot and are still looking for the gang's masterminds, who are believed to be in possession of the balance.

The haul was made in a commando-like raid on the London-bound mail train after it was stopped by a false red signal at a hamlet near Aylesbury.

Most of the money was in five-pound notes being transferred from banks in Scotland to banks in the British capital.

Week Trial

The trial began Jan. 20 and lasted nine weeks, an unusual length for a British criminal trial. Judge Davies took five days to deliver his summation.

The jury's three-day deliberation was the longest since a vast area of Asia in which 240 million people live, U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said today.

In prepared answers to questions put to the ambassador by Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press, Lodge made these other points:

1. Lodge believes South Viet both the world's greatest and a paper war against the Viet perialist power and also a paper doctors found signs of moderate current plans provided external hostile influences stay within bounds.

2. The general withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Viet at this time would be on the west by Burma Communist seizure of South Viet Nam as proposed by France squarely into the middle of Communist bloc nations Southeast Asia, whence they would be "the complete equivalent of Communist victory."

3. Neutralization of South Viet would have an incalculable effect on the northeast and east by the loss of South Viet Nam into a hazy zone of Communist influence.

Gallagher submitted his questions to Lodge during a visit to Saigon earlier this week. The AP general manager is now in their west in Thailand and Burma and are of advanced years.

Senator Cited As Promoter of Appeasement

Laird Calls Speech A 'Trial Balloon' By Administration

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican national chairman, William E. Miller, charges Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., with promoting appeasement.

"The course Sen Fulbright advocates is the same road which Neville Chamberlain traveled in the 1930's," Miller said in a statement today. "It is a course which Republicans

In a House speech, Wednesday Rep. Melvin R. Laird, (R-Wis., also called Fulbright's discourse on foreign policy "a trial balloon." It was, Laird said, "the first gun in an administration drive to extricate itself as painlessly as possible from the morass of foreign policy blunders."

will oppose now as they have opposed it in the past."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called on the Johnson administration and the nation Wednesday to abandon "old myths" and face up to "the new realities of our time."

Treaty Revision

He called for prompt revision of the Panama Canal Treaty and a new attitude toward Cuba—viewing its Communist Prime Minister Fidel Castro as a nuisance but not a grave threat to the United States.

Miller did not use the word appeasement in his attack on Fulbright. But there could be no other implication to the reference to Chamberlain, the pre-World War II British prime minister who acceded to Germany's territorial demands on its neighbors.

Miller said Fulbright's remarks—a 70-minute speech titled "Old Myths and New Realities" delivered to an almost empty Senate chamber—set the stage for the foreign policy debate in the 1964 campaign.

Trial

"This is a trial balloon which the Johnson administration is sending up to prepare public opinion for the acceptance of a foreign policy that could lead only to disaster for the United States and other free nations," said Miller, a New York congressman.

White House sources described the Fulbright's speech as very interesting and with many items worthy of consideration. The Vietnamese Premier Gen. sources said Fulbright had not discussed it in advance with any member of the administration which means that in the army and that "specifically on Cuba and Panama it does not represent the policy of the administration."

Miller said the real myths in Fulbright's speech were his assumptions that the Soviet Union has "drawn back" from aggressive policies, that "the nature of the Chinese Communist threat" has changed and that more trade with Communist nations will "strengthen the foundations of peace."

fore, when we speak of South Vietnam, we are not talking of some small neck of the woods, but of an area about 2,300 miles long from north to south, and 3,000 miles wide from east to west, with about 240 million people.

Would Hurt U. S.

"If the Communist Chinese, using North Viet Nam as a cat's paw, were able to take over South Viet Nam, it would be interpreted as a vindication of the fanatic Chinese methods over that of the Soviets. It would also be regarded in the free world as reflecting a general lack of ability, a lack of will, power by the United States to prevent Communist aggression."

Q. The war throughout South Viet Nam seems to be in a stalemate with little relative change on either side. What changes can be expected to end this low-key period of conflict?

Lodge: "I believe that the consistent execution of the existing civil-political and military plans will bring victory—provided the Fulbright's speech as very interesting and with many items worthy of consideration. The Vietnamese Premier Gen. sources said Fulbright had not discussed it in advance with any member of the administration which means that in the army and that "specifically on Cuba and Panama it does not represent the policy of the administration."

Defendants Listed

Defendants found guilty of conspiring to rob the train were:

Roger J. Cordrey, 42, a florist of East Molesey, Surrey; William Boal, 50, engineer, of London; Charles F. Wilson, 31, and Thomas W. Wisbey, 33, both London bookies; James Hussey, 30, housepainter, London; Leon-Kuhr, 34, Seymour, was not injured. Both vehicles were headed south on 41 when the accident occurred.

An accident about 3:30 Tuesday caused minor injuries to of South Dakota and Minnesota and near zero in Iowa. Freezing weather extended southward to Arkansas and northern Texas. Temperatures outside the cold belt appeared near normal for the Southeast.

Neutralism Helps Reds

"The cost to us in dollars per year is less than it costs to build one airplane carrier. For us to throw away this joint investment, for which brave men have laid down their lives, would be imprudent."

Q. Do you envisage any circumstances where in the neutrality solution as proposed by France, would be acceptable to the United States, insofar as South Viet Nam is concerned?

"This guy is espousing one of the most bigoted positions in the history of man," Reynolds said. "I don't plan to do anything to let anyone think that I happen to think he is on the same level at all."

Miss Margaret M. Neville, 22, 429 W. Sixth St., was not injured. Mrs. Arnoldussen told police she would see a family doctor for treatment of a minor leg cut.

Snow left traffic snarled and busses 10 to 15 minutes behind schedule. Rail and air traffic was reported on time.

An Olson Transportation Co. semi-trailer truck was stuck at Meade Street and Wisconsin Ave. during rush hour today. The front of the vehicle was stuck on one side of the street, the back on the other, completely blocking off Meade.

William Lambie, Kaukauna street superintendent, is taking a lot of ribbing today. Wednesday he had his crews pick up and store all the sand barrels and snow fences in use in the city.

Main Road Open

The State Highway Department said main roads elsewhere in the state were open, and snow packed, but could be expected to improve.

However, the department said drifts were hampering clearing operations.

Wisconsin snowfall ranged from four inches in the south to 12 inches in the north. The snow did little to satisfy lagging precipitation. Less than one-half inch of water was recorded in the nine-inch fall.

Tornadoes skipped across areas in southeast Missouri, northwestern Alabama and Georgia Wednesday as stormy weather erupted in parts of the Midwest and South.

About 20 persons were injured and three schools, 36 houses and several farm buildings were destroyed by twisters which struck Wayne, Butler and Reynolds counties in southeast Missouri. Among the injured were 13 students and a teacher in a school at tiny Clubb, which was struck by a tornado.

Twister Hits Farm

Seven persons were injured when a twister struck in a farm area near Addison, Ala. Several houses were damaged. A small tornado ripped apart a service station in Palmetto, Ga., but no one was hurt.

Heavy rain doused areas in Kentucky, Southern Illinois and Indiana. Tornado winds lashed the Logansport, Ind., area, damaging five airplanes and several farm buildings.

More than seven inches of snow covered Green Bay, Moderate to heavy snow fell in the Dakotas, parts of Iowa, Michigan and Illinois. Light snow was reported in the Great Lakes region. Temperatures dropped to 13 below zero in Jamestown, N.D.; were below zero in parts of South Dakota and Minnesota and near zero in Iowa. Freezing weather extended southward to Arkansas and northern Texas. Temperatures outside the cold belt appeared near normal for the Southeast.

The trio entered the store and forced Mrs. Helen Bellauer to open a safe containing the money. Meanwhile, the fourth man backed the car close to the door. The stickup took less than 30 seconds. Everything went smoothly.

But as the men emerged from the store, the two detectives leveled their guns at them and ordered them to halt. The gunmen fired and raced to their car.

Bogged down moments later, the bandits leaped from the car. Police closed in, firing from all sides with revolvers, rifles and a machine gun.

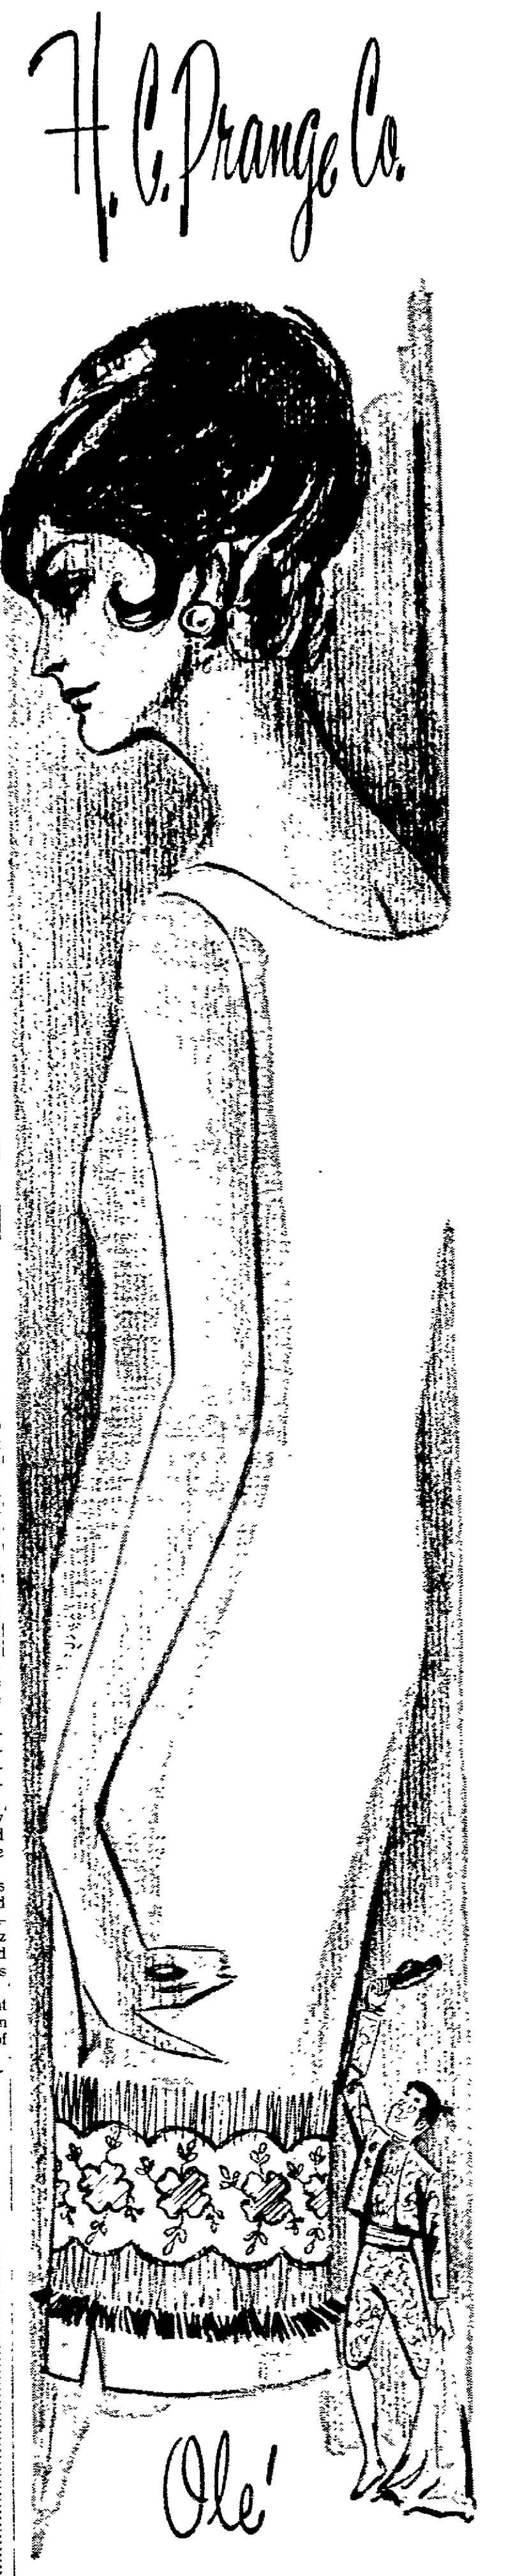

Search Randoned

Panteas, alias Michael A. Palastie, escaped, but the three others were slain. There were no injuries to policemen.

About three hours later, officers abandoned the door-to-door search for Panteas, assuming he had escaped the neighborhood.

March 2, Parille, McCauley and a third man were arrested in connection with a theft the day before of $70,000 in tools.

Police said McCauley has served prison terms for armed N.D.; were below zero in parts of South Dakota and Minnesota and near zero in Iowa. Freezing weather extended southward to Arkansas and northern Texas. Temperatures outside the cold belt appeared near normal for the Southeast.

Children Or Guests Get 'Old Bedding'

One out of three old mattress are passed along within a household or to another household, according to a nationwide independent survey made for the bedding industry.

The principal victim of the mattress "hand-me-down" is the same person who is on the old clothes shift — the child under 12 years of age. Children are less likely than adults to complain about sleeping discomfort. But, unfortunately, children are more likely to become tension sleepers.

If your children are nervous and cranky, it may be due to their lack of perfect sleep that provides maximum rest. Young pliable spines need the proper support of good mattresses and box springs — not old, sagging hand-me-down mattresses.

Or if the bedding is not passed on to the youngsters it is relegated to guest rooms when new sets are brought into the home. The chances are that you may receive a low grade as a hostess.

Bedding Into Guest Rooms

A nationwide independent survey reveals that one of three old mattresses and box springs are passed along within the household. Slightly more than 40 per cent of these "hand-me-downs" go into guest rooms.

To earn a perfect hostess title, furnish your guest room with new oversize bedding. Extra length and extra width mattresses and box springs are designed for today's taller men and women and represent the maximum in sleep comfort.

Parents' World

Pre-School Child Shouldn't Have Other-Child Care

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: My daughter who's four years old is very easy to get along with. She's lovable and affectionate. But she constantly mother's my two-year-old son. She dresses him, sees that he's taken care of first, and it's impossible to separate them.

Dr. Jones: I'm afraid that when they grow up, he will take advantage of her and turn her into a fool for anyone's sob story. But I don't know how to stop this now without making her lose affection for him.

MRS. M. D.: The best way to prevent problems in her later life is to make certain she gets the mothering and guidance she needs now. No pre-school child should be allowed to take responsibility for another child. Your daughter still needs to be babied by you and helped to learn to take care of herself.

Whenever she starts to take over for you, stop her. Explain that you're able to be a good mother to both your children without her help. And remind her that when she's grownup, she'll be able to take care of her own children. Give her an extra snuggle whenever you point out that she's still just a little girl who has her work cut out learning to take care of herself. That way, she she didn't lose affection for you or her brother.

Dear Dr. Jones: What responsibilities should two young girls have around the home? Our girls are five and six. I think they should clean up their room in the morning before they leave for school. They're very good about dressing themselves, washing themselves and otherwise helping themselves. But they leave clothes and toys all over their rooms and leave their beds all messed up.

MRS. C. O.: Ask them to put away their toys when they finish each game. And tell them to hang up their clothes when they remove them and to put dirty clothes in the laundry bag at night. That way, they'll just have to hang up their pajamas and straighten their beds in the morning.

So long as you keep their expectations limited to asking them to take care of themselves and of their own things, you aren't asking too much.

Dear Dr. Jones: What causes my children to be unhappy all the time?

MRS. K. A.: Children are happy when their needs are taken care of. To find out where your children's dissatisfaction lies, you'll need to examine the usual happenings of their daily life. Write more details about such things as eating, sleeping, toileting, play, and discipline, and I'll try to help you discover what's wrong so you can correct matters.

Dear Dr. Jones: My 3½-year-old son won't use the toilet, no matter how long I sit with him in the bathroom. He knows this upsets me. And today he said, "Mommy, please put diapers back on me so I can mess in them and not make you mad." Now what should I do?

MRS. I. A.: Follow the suggestions in my pamphlet, "How to Solve Toileting Problems." These will help you learn to keep yourself from becoming upset by his refusal to use the toilet. Once he's sure you aren't going to interfere with his right to decide to use it, he'll find the toilet convenient and comfortable to use.

To receive a copy of "How To Solve Toileting Problems," send your request with 20 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Eve Jones, care of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Reynolds Asks 'Vote for Decency' In April Primary

Ballot Will Decide Civil Rights Issue in State, Says Governor

BY DOUG KOPLIEN

CHILTON — Gov. John W. Reynolds, urged Calumet County Democratic workers to get voters to the polls April 7 to "vote for decency" in a speech to Democratic workers here Wednesday noon.

The civil rights issue in Wisconsin will be decided in the election he said.

If Alabama Gov. George Wallace receives a substantial vote in the primary it will be a vote for segregation in the state, Reynolds said.

The eyes of the nation will be focused on the state presidential primary, he said.

Wallace, Reynolds said is deliberately spreading falsehoods concerning the civil rights bill presently in Congress.

Human Rights

The bill is supported by both parties to guarantee human rights, Reynolds said.

He did not differentiate between votes for himself or Rep. John Byrnes. A vote for either would be a vote for decency, he said.

Concerning Wallace's claim that he is a segregationist and not a racist, Reynolds stated that basically there is no difference.

The reason Wallace supports segregation is that he does not want the Negro to vote. If the Negro does vote, Wallace knows he will not be re-elected, Reynolds said.

"Vote For Immorality"

Should Wisconsin show a substantial backing for Wallace, "it would be a vote for immorality in the state," he said. The Wisconsin primary will be a display of the political and moral philosophy of the state, Reynolds said.

Wallace is campaigning on the Alabama state funds, Reynolds said. He continually urged the Democrats to get people out to vote regardless of party affiliation. He said he has faith in the Wisconsin people that if they vote they will vote for decency.

Reynolds very briefly outlined his proposed highway construction program. He cited a desperate need for new roads, especially the interstate system.

Four-Lane Highways

Proposed four-lane highways, he said, are 400 per cent safer than the present two-lane highways.

In order to pay for the system the state would be required to pay only the interest on the money borrowed for the construction. Federal money would pay for 90 per cent of the construction costs, he said.

If started immediately, the construction would be completed by 1966 or in about 2½ years, Reynolds said.

In the next 20 years there will be approximately one million more drivers and 1,200,000 more vehicles using the state highway system, Reynolds stated.

This increase warrants a stepped up highway program now, the governor said.

Insurer to Sue Waupaca For $20,000

An insurance firm is attempting to recover approximately $20,000 from Waupaca County by a legal action in which the firm claims the county was negligent in an April 1961, automobile accident death.

The firm, All State Insurance Co., claimed it had paid $10,000 as a result of the death of James E. Gilkey, a passenger in an automobile which went off Waupaca County Trunk F into the Wolf River.

The firm has claimed the highway department was negligent in not warning motorists that the highway ended at the river, that there had been a barricade but it had been removed, and that there were no stop signs at the end of the road.

The action has been filed in the Outagamie County clerk of courts office.

In two other actions, the insurance firm is attempting to recover $811 for the damage done to the car, owned by John F. March, Aurora, Ill., and $124 for injuries received by a second passenger, Neil Sanders.

Gerald K. Anderson, Waupaca County district attorney, has denied the highway department was negligent in a reply to the carrier firm's suit.

Robber Sentenced To Reformatory

KENOSHA (AP) — Myron Richards, 22, who was dubbed the "bath towel bandit," was sentenced Tuesday to a total of 12 years in the Wisconsin Reformatory near Green Bay.

Richards, of Kenosha, pleaded guilty to the armed robbery of three all-night filling stations. Richards, armed with a rifle in each case, obtained a total of $500. He was given the nickname because he wrapped a large bath towel around his head while holding up the stations.

Sentence was imposed by County Judge Urban Zievers.

Menasha High Cagers Honor Two Seniors

Mark Pawlowski 'Most Valuable' On Bluejay Five

MENASHA — Mark Pawlowski was named the most valuable player on the Menasha Bluejay basketball team and he and Pat Kenney were selected by their teammates as honorary co-captains. It was announced at a basketball awards assembly Wednesday afternoon.

Pawlowski received his third letter. Walter, Conway and Kenney their second and the others were honored for the first time. Jayvee coach Leo Kenney presented minor awards to Dan Hanson and Bob Smarzynski, juniors, and Wayne Domkoski, Preston Alvadi, Dave Christensen, Mike Knoll, Ken Melson, Paul Blohm, Jim Bauhs, Dave Johnson, Pat Conway, Jim Weyenberg and Floyd Coons, sophomores and managers John Herziger and George Fucik.

Of each of the varsity players, Coach Clem Massey remarked: Mark Pawlowski — Tremendous leader. Had 329 rebounds or 220 more than the 1963 leader. An unselfish player who led the team in scoring but ranked third in shots taken. Hub of the team's offense.

Pat Kenney — Great improvement over last year. Played as well as any guard he's ever seen in the victory at Kimberly. Became the No. 1 guard when Barry Conway was hurt.

Barry Conway — Missed him during the year. Most pride of any boy on the squad. Good job against Kimberly in tournament.

Jim Walter — Coach's dream. Starter last year but lost regular status when strong rebounding underclassmen came along. Excellent job against Kimberly in tournament. Excellent student.

Darrell Redmond — "Dunk" shot artist who made Pawlowski a fine ball player because he had to guard him in practice.

Dick Slattery — Potential greatness — Jumps well. Played behind the best center in the league.

Dick Sorensen — One of best

Alabama Writer Plans Anti-Wallace Drive

William Bradford Huie Says He Will be In Appleton, Oshkosh to 'Tell the Truth'

An Alabama novelist and press and radio and television journalist, who says he is a conservative, intends to visit Appleton, Oshkosh and other Wisconsin cities to "tell the truth about Alabama Gov. George Wallace."

William Bradford Huie said he will come to Wisconsin next week to expose Gov. Wallace and try to get his delegates to disavow him. If Wallace gets a respectable vote in Wisconsin, Huie said, "the people of Alabama will be the losers."

"I am a conservative and I believe most of these people (the Wallace delegates) are conservatives, and I resent the fact that Wallace is running as a conservative when he is merely an opportunist."

"Use as Whip" Huie claims if Wallace gets a large vote in the April 7 Wisconsin presidential primary election, "he will use it to whip us down here. He is running for dictator of Alabama and he wants to establish a police state down here."

"He (Wallace) tried in the last legislative session to amend the constitution so he can succeed, himself as governor. We beat him on it in the legislature, but he intends to submit the same bill again next session," Huie said.

He said he will arrive in Appleton, Oshkosh and other cities where he has support. The novelist said "I am not going to make speeches, but I want to talk to the delegates and to any members of the "money" players school ever had as exhibited with clutch free throw shooting in tournament.

Rick Zimmerman — One of the best shooters on squad. Pressed into regular status when Conway was hurt. Improving on defense.

Terry Haack — Has great speed, quickness, hustle. Should be regular or close to it next year.

Rod Richter — Worked hard in practice.

John Martin — Excellent shooter.

Don Steffin — One of many keys to successful season. Highest scoring sophomore in school's history.

Tom Vanderhyden — No. 3 guard most of the season. Has potential to be tremendous ball player.

Jayvee coach Leo Kenney said because of the current Jayvee team, Menasha is assured of two more good years of basketball and his only regret is that he was able to use all of the boys more and "Nee-nah beat us twice."

Easter Sales Mostly Good In Fox Cities

Stores Attribute Slight Drop to Early Holiday Date

A survey of large and small stores in the Fox Cities shows buying for Easter has been generally good.

Where Easter buying was off from last year, stores attributed the drop mostly to the early date. Most merchants interviewed said their experiences showed post-Easter business was better after an early Easter.

The psychological effect of the income tax cut was credited for national pre-Easter gains. In the Fox Cities, this reflected itself in more in hard goods lines rather than in apparel for some department stores. At least one major department store, however, reported very good to excellent business in nearly every category of apparel and shoes that fit the "Easter business" description.

Where Easter sales were favorable, suits, dresses and young persons' dress shoes were strong items. Most merchants agreed weather had been very favorable up to the considerable snowfall, which began Wednesday night.

Merchants evaluating Fox Cities business so far this year generally agreed the area does not follow national sales trends, particularly those of major city areas.

Exiles, particularly small children, arriving in recent weeks. "They bear marks of malnutrition such as skin alterations," Dr. Miriam Bosch said on a Spanish language television program Wednesday.

Charlie Footnotes Green Bay Press Conference of Alabama Governor

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

GREEN BAY — Like a serendipity singer hoping that something good will come from all this, Gov. George Wallace of Alabama held a press conference here where he was obliged to field hostile questions almost from A to Z.

Trim and tidy in a neatly pressed, dark blue suit, the embattled Alabamian thought, he said, that he was criticized and maligned by portions of the press, but that segregation and racist problems were not a part of his campaign here.

The only reason I talk about segregation is because you ask me," he said.

Some of the questions were hot: and some deliberately baited the governor. He fielded them aptly but not always adroitly. When asked about race conflicts in Alabama, he countered with a mention of race conflicts in Milwaukee, often answering questions with his own questions, some a shade removed from the specific point.

For one questioner, he defined the word "segregation."

"Segregation," he said "is a right," like that of choosing one's own husband or wife.

Indicating a ready willingness to leave the subjects of racism and segregation, which, he said, have nothing to do with his campaign in Wisconsin, he was scarcely permitted to.

Asked to describe the symbol and the legend which appears on the Democratic ballots in Alabama, the governor described apparently a wedding ring; the other a large gold one.

Gestured Often

He gestured frequently and sometimes gracefully, often dropping both hands into the side pockets of his blue suit.

His efforts to depart from questions with racist undercurrents brought him briefly to the Civil Rights bill now before Congress.

The bill, he said, if enacted into law, would "destroy the God-given rights of all people regardless of race, color or creed."

For a backdrop to his appearance at the press conference, he had imported seven Alabamians who stood like a silent chorus behind him throughout the conference and presumably behind him, too, ideologically, politically and actually.

Creed or Nationality

He introduced all of them by creed or national background — Greek, Italian, German, Slav, Polish, Jewish, Catholic, Protestant. The purpose of bringing them, he announced, was to refute the implication of the "downright false propaganda" of what he called "the left wing press" which implied he was supported in Alabama only by people of Anglo-Saxon descent.

He raised a challenge to Wisconsin's Gov. Reynolds to meet him in a televised debate. Northern hospitality may have seemed to him to be cool and restrained. When he entered the room only a few people rose to lend him a menial which is a combination of pugnacity and his conference he was applaud-aggressiveness. He is slightly ed briefly and seemingly with-pale. His dark hair is combed out warmly.

It was, at best, a difficult single finger wave. He wears morning for the visitor from Alabama. He has two rings on his left hand, one; bama.

the symbol as "A rooster." He said he did not remember the words of the legend, but the questioner reminded him that it read "white supremacy." He replied that he had had nothing to do with its choice.

"Do you approve of it?" he was asked.

"I have no objection to the symbol," he said.

Sharp Questions

Gov. Wallace clearly expected the questions to be sharp ones and he answered most of them broadly and courteously.

He has mellifluous voice which is "educated Alabamian." "Ne-groes" is pronounced "Ni-groes"; "Hypocrisy" is "High-pocracy"; "film" is "fil'm"; "Many" becomes "Manny" and "High taxes" are "hah" ones. Gov. Wallace is a small man. His dark eyes and heavy brows lend him a menial which is a combination of pugnacity and his conference he was applaud-aggressiveness. He is slightly ed briefly and seemingly with-pale. His dark hair is combed out warmly.

It was, at best, a difficult single finger wave. He wears morning for the visitor from Alabama. He has two rings on his left hand, one; bama.

New Look in Foreign Policy

There is a new line in Washington concerning our policies at this time with Latin America but which undoubtedly will spill over into other areas. It represents essentially a difference in approach between the late President Kennedy and President Johnson. It is a hard-headed, no nonsense attitude that states and demands rather than wows and placates. Its strength is in its firm representation of the power and leadership of the United States. Its weakness could be in its lack of inspiration.

President Johnson's announcement that he could no longer go along with the March 12th declaration of agreement between Panama and the United States shocked Panamanian leaders and Organization of American States delegates. The President said that the declaration was being interpreted in Panama as meaning that the U. S. would agree to canal treaty changes. But he was meaning a lot more than that.

In effect the President was saying that the U. S. will not negotiate under pressure, that the Chiari government is trying to use the U. S. as a scapegoat for the coming presidential elections, that the strength and wealth and leadership of the U. S. keeps the whole hemisphere from starvation and acquisition by Communists or other power hungry tyrants. He was saying that he and a lot of other Americans are fed up with abuse from people whom we are feeding.

There are also reports that Thomas Mann, the new Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs, has told United States representatives in Latin America that there is going to be a new line toward the more dictatorial regimes that have been overthrowing short-lived democracies in many Latin American countries. No longer will the U. S. employ the withdrawal of diplomatic recognition and economic aid every time there is a successful right-wing revolt, according to reports. Instead the yardstick about recognition of a new government will be whether or not it has effective control.

This is a healthy change, not to indicate that we favor dictators or military controls, but because non-recognition has never been a success. We withheld varying amounts of recognition and aid in the last few years from Argentina, Peru, Honduras, Guatemala, Ecuador, the Dominican Republic and Cuba. There is no sign that the ostracism did any more than get the new government to vaguely say something about eventual elections. Nor is there any sign that our recognition later extended brought about social or economic reforms and friendship toward the U. S. Our non-recognition of the Soviet Union, Red China and other Communist regimes has produced no noticeable changes.

The major trouble in our relations with Latin America—as well as some parts of the rest of the world—is that we cannot through any means recreate other countries in our own image. Their traditions, customs, histories, perhaps their attitudes are too different. We are learning the hard way that more authoritarian government may be necessary to maintain essential law and order in countries where freedom and responsibility have not developed hand in hand. At the same time we have to remember that there are essential freedoms too that we want to encourage and which do not depend upon culture or tradition.

We agree with the message of the Alliance for Progress that "free men working through the institution of representative democracy can best satisfy man's aspirations." Our aid to Latin American countries should continue to be carefully tied to economic and social reforms in those countries. There is no sense in our sending money to make bigger estates and more elaborate officers clubs.

But this is a legitimate way of attempting to influence their internal affairs. Non-recognition is not so accepted and results only in resentment and false promises.

President Kennedy and his associates who, one by one, are leaving the Johnson Administration by mutual consent, were idealists although the motives may have been essentially practical. In our realistic acceptance of the facts of life in Latin America we must not forget that man needs more than bread.

In our concern about Communist infiltration and the need for authority we must not forget that cynical, selfish tyrants and their acceptance by the multitude have been the major causes of Latin American poverty, misery and simmering unrest. We have to show that we won't be pushed around but we also must help to stimulate the drives toward liberty which exist in Latin America as in all the world.

Law in the Moral Field

A commission in New York has been working for several months upon a complete revision of the state's penal code similar to the extensive overhauling completed in Wisconsin some years ago. As in most states, New York's code had developed over the years with piecemeal additions, holdover anachronisms and technical regulations that made jury duty confusing and therefore often contrary to a just decision.

The proposed changes are so extensive that it will probably take years for the legislature to sort them out and determine upon adoption. And probably one proposal that will arouse a great deal of controversy is in regard to sexual crimes.

The new proposals have followed the recent British change and advocate no law at all concerning sexual relations between consenting adults. It throws out regulations against fornication, adultery and sexual deviation.

At present, Wisconsin has laws against relations between two people not married to each other with a heavier penalty if one is married to someone else. We also provide fines or imprisonment for those who live with someone not his spouse

"under circumstances that imply sexual intercourse."

Almost all laws regarding sexual relations are unenforceable. The increase in illegitimate births in Wisconsin is an indication of the failure to enforce our own laws. And the existence of an unenforceable law which is consistently winked at threatens our whole system of law and order. If one law can be broken with impunity, why not another?

There has always been the argument—and it is going on in New York—that even though laws against immorality cannot be enforced, the laws should remain on the books as an indication of social disapproval. For such an argument to be valid there must be some sign that the presence of such laws inhibits sexual irregularities. Apparently this is not the case.

We have witnessed the last few months the travels of a highly publicized pair throughout the nation with no threat whatsoever of adultery charges. If laws are to be so flaunted, they are better done away with.

Legislation in the field of morals is always difficult to evaluate. If such legislation is impotent, there can be no reason for it all.

Looking Backward

Siege of Charleston Continues

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for March 19, 1864.

The Richmond Examiner of March 14th contains the following bulletin stories on the siege of Charleston:

March 7 — The enemy have kept up a slow fire on the city. The position of the fleet is unchanged.

March 8 — Thirty-one shells were fired into the city today.

March 9 — Five monitors are outside the bar (the sand bar across the opening of Charleston harbor that made navigation there tricky. Ten shells have been fired at (Fort) Sumpter. An artillery duel has been kept up for several hours between Battery Gregg and a battery on Sullivan's Island.

March 13—Eight shells have been fired at the city since the last report. There is nothing new.

25 YEARS AGO
Thursday, March 23, 1939.

Two championship basketball teams at the Appleton YMCA were to face each other that night. The National League champs, the Buckeyes, included Chester Christian, Ralph Gertsch, Milton Bergner, William Mullen, James Larsen and Glen Scherke. The Red Wings, American League champions, included Gene Langdon, Jerome Lueben, Jack Williamson, Jerome Eastman, Harold Grishaber, Kenneth Gerisch and Eugene Williamson.

John Block and Milton Hass were elected co-captains of the Winnebago DeMolay basketball team. Members of the Twin City chapter who were to play in the state DeMolay tournament included the co-captains, Earl Block, C. Burmeister, Roger Kettering, R. Sorenson, L. Warner, R. Mcade, Herbert Hartung and K. Abraham. William Overly was team manager. Adviser was Dr. William Schultz.

Gloria Enger was elected president of Pilgrim Pioneers, new junior high school group at First Congregational Church, Appleton. Other officers were Ila Mae Stueck, vice president; John Davis, secretary-treasurer; Shirley Foresman, publicity director, and Patty Snow, social and membership chairman. Mrs. W. J. Mumme was adviser for the group.

10 YEARS AGO
Thursday, March 25, 1954.

Mid-Eastern Conference basketball coaches had little trouble picking the five best players for the past season. Three men chosen unanimously for the first team were Marty Splinterger of Clintonville, Stu Courchane of Kimberly and Clem Massey of Menasha, each rated top 14 points. Bob Jedwabny, Menasha, and Art Cantwell, Shawano, garnered the next highest 13 points. Tom Malchow, Neenah, collected the highest number of points for a place on the second team.

Harold C. Mulvey, Neenah, was elected to his fifth consecutive term as secretary-treasurer of the Ready Mixed Concrete Association of Wisconsin. Richard Schouten, Appleton, was named a new director.

Students at Winneconne Community High School elected Walter Wenzel their prom king. Wenzel was active in forensics, was Student Council treasurer and a member of the Future Farmers of America.

Jack Huppler, Appleton Troop 16 Boy Scout, was honored with his Life Scout award at the family potluck supper and court of awards. Scoutmaster Jack Hankey led the opening ceremony of the evening event with all troop members taking part.

Menasha Alderman Offers Apology for Townsman

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Apparently one of our Menasha citizens has gone on a tangent and spread his venom of vengeance to create a furor and I do not share his views.

I have known and worked for Mayor Mitchell and have admiration and respect for him. I have asked for his counsel on civic matters and received a warm reception.

Upon his invitation I attended an Appleton council meeting and received every courtesy from Mrs. Stillings and the city clerk during my attendance.

Working in Appleton the past 18 years I have met and associated with many people and put them on a par with any community.

Being an employee of the Appleton Post-Crescent I can say they are one of the few newspapers who share no expense in trying to put out the best possible newspaper and the public acceptance to a growing circulation can be attested to their efforts.

As far as the business district of Appleton is concerned I can say I am very envious. In conclusion I see no logical reason to raise "hell" over one situation and so long as no official from the City of Menasha has come forward, if the people concerned with defamation by his boisterous outburst I will offer an humble apology.

Respectfully,
William B. Erickson
Third Ward Alderman

Question of Popular Election of Judiciary Has Many Angles

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — For several years this reporter has enjoyed a stimulating exchange of correspondence with a lawyer of distinction about doubts expressed in this space about the movement to abolish the elective judiciary.

Wyngaard

The most recent letter from this thoughtful and diligent man inquires whether he has accurately detected a change of viewpoint in these dispatches on the question.

It is difficult to reply without qualifications. The issue is a troublesome one. There are aspects of the present campaign involving two nominees for a State Supreme Court seat that are disturbing. Not the least of them is the inability or unwillingness of the bar itself to lend useful leadership in the judicial selection process as it exists, without regard to what it might be, or ought to be, or is in other jurisdictions.

In the poll before the judicial primary several weeks ago conducted by the State Bar of Wisconsin there were 5,040 ballots dispatched to eligible lawyers.

Only 2,363 were returned with opinions on the qualifications of the three filed candidates. This was substantially less than half of those who were entitled to vote and who might be thought to have an obligation to participate because of status and presumption of knowledge.

RESERVATIONS

Suggestive also was the fact that the largest number of opinions indicating a lack of qualifications in a candidate involved a man who was nevertheless listed as "qualified," and very likely profited politically from the designation, and that the least number of "unqualified" ballots were marked for another candidate who failed to win a "qualifying" designation because more than a thousand of his professional fellows indicated they had no opinion about him.

That candidate lost the primary election, almost surely in part because of the equivocal grade he got in the poll of his own professional society.

The candidate who got the best score was the incumbent judge running for a new term, which of course surprised nobody.

To a responsible member of the lay community, these are significant reactions from an organization which is in the vanguard of a campaign to reform the judicial administration through the elimination of direct popular election of judges. If less than half of the trained lawyers of Wisconsin find it impossible to mark on a secret ballot their preference among candidates for an important judgeship, surely there must be doubt about the competence of their neighbors to make such a judgment. It is especially difficult within the claimed application of the professional canons of ethics, which seemingly frown upon discussion of specific legal issues and particular litigation.

BUT

My attorney correspondent believes that a system of judicial selection which would provide for gubernatorial choice from a list of qualified men as prepared by a commission would be preferable to the blind choice of the electorate — subject to requiring the appointee to face the people in an election on his record.

The alternative has respectable and even prestigious support. But there are nagging uncertainties, nevertheless. Will the people respond any more acutely on the basis of a judge's performance, when there are such doubts about their capacity in the present system of choosing? Will the bar which shows such inadequacy in the current polls be any more certain of its judgments when it is represented on the proposed new nominating commission?

Is not judicial qualification an essentially subjective matter? Can the democratic ideal of popular responsibility—and popular right to make mistakes — survive in other political institutions if it is denied here? It is not an easy issue, and earnest men can disagree without damage to their integrity.

Story-Tellers' Wives Are Finest Actresses

Purely Personal Prejudices: For every one child that education sharpens, a dozen are repressed and made dull by it; otherwise, how explain the large number of bright and curious 6-year-olds, and the much smaller number of bright and curious 16-year-olds?

Feminine logic is that which convinces a woman she is getting an item for nothing if the price is cut in half and she buys it with the half she has "saved" from the regular price.

The inequity of all laws was tersely expressed by Balzac more than a century ago, when he wrote: "Laws are spider webs that catch little flies, but cannot hold big ones."

Foolish things done on impulse usually harm no one except the doer; but foolish things done for strong principles usually harm everyone else in the vicinity.

Women with the most romantic yearnings tend to marry the most prosaic husbands — for this is the only way they can safely retain their romantic yearnings without having them ruined by reality.

As technology enables the peoples of China, India, and Africa to leap into the 20th century, one wonders what neurotic reactions will afflict the white race when it finally realizes it is the "minority group" in the world.

The essential difference between "open" and "closed" religions was succinctly put by John Morley, who noted: "Where it is a duty to worship the sun, it is pretty sure to be a crime to examine the laws of heat."

Speaking of religion, absolutely the one thing the road to hell is not paved with is "good intentions" — for the virtue of any act resides in its intentions and not in its results. (The only catch being that our intentions are not always what we think they are.)

People who feel pity for city dogs because they have no room to run in have never observed a farm dog, who is the laziest creature in the world and customarily takes no more exercise than a lethargic trot from the fireside to the trough. City dogs also, generally, live longer and are healthier than their rustic counterparts.

For taking a man back to his senses, one ounce of fright is worth ten pounds of advice. What a physician calls a "good patient" is one who follows the doctor's orders with implicit confidence — to the brink of the grave, if necessary.

No actor in the world can rival a wife who has heard her husband tell the same story twenty times and is still able to muster the simulacrum of a fresh smile at the punch line.

Cast Set for 'Red Shoes' at Xavier High

Play Adapted From Anderson Tale to be Presented in May

Miss Katherine Martin, Xavier High School drama director, has announced the cast for the annual all-school spring play, "Red Shoes."

The play, adapted from the play of Hans Christian Anderson by Robin Short, will be presented at 8 p.m. May 8 and 9, with a matinee for children at 2 p.m. May 9.

Chosen for the cast are Chris Becker, who will play Karen; Kathy Greuntzel as Snogg, Michael Sherman in the part of Mels, Stephen Crabb as Jemmo, Joseph Graves playing the Burgomaster, and Peggy Heims as a "nice old lady."

Miss Helen Koonz, girls' physical education teacher, will be the choreographer, and Mrs. Ronald Merbach will be the music consultant. Sheila Grimes will be student director. Crew directors chosen by Miss Martin are Patrick Fox, lights, Frank Escamilla, sound, Andrea Abendroth, stage, Carol Vandenberg, publicity, Karen Haag, make-up, and Kathy Heegeman, costumes.

"Red Shoes" is the story of a pair of magic shoes which cause anyone who puts them on to dance incessantly. The magic shoes have fallen into the hands of a scheming gypsy woman by the name of Snogg, who, with her little mule, Jemmo, arrives in a picturesque Danish village. There they meet Karen, a pretty, young orphan girl. Snogg and Jemmo entice Karen to give up her wooden shoes and try on the magic red shoes. The difficulties which result fill out the action of the play.

Woman Found Guilty Of Selling Fermented Malt Drinks to Minors

Mrs. Beatrice Ludwig, route 1, Kaukauna, was found guilty Tuesday of one count of selling fermented malt beverages to minors on Oct. 18 in Ludwig's Lanes near Kaukauna.

A six-man jury which deliberated less than one hour found Mrs. Ludwig innocent of a second count. Outagamie County Judge Gustave Keller has set sentencing for Tuesday. Mrs. Ludwig was released on bond after trial in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

"I WAS READY TO THROW IN THE TOWEL"

... Until my family started using Post-Crescent Want Ads ... Then things really got better around our place in a hurry.

Here's what happened. One day my mistress said she was tired of living with a budget that just wouldn't stretch enough to allow for any "extras". Then the boss said he couldn't understand why other families with incomes like ours always seemed to have enough money left over to do things ... And, about that time, the kids came in and asked for new bikes. I'm telling you I led a dog's life around here for a while.

Shortly after that though, my family heard about money-making Post-Crescent Want Ads and decided to give them a try. I followed my mistress all around the house one day while she wrote down everything she could find that we didn't use or need any more ... the kids outgrown toys, clothing and furniture; a camera; the musical instrument no one plays now; some appliances; sports equipment; tools; yard furniture; even the dog house I don't use (now that I'm older and wiser). When she finished her list, she went right to the phone. That night she told the boss about the friendly Ad Writer who'd made it so easy for her to place her ad.

For the next few days I nearly ran my legs off meeting all the people who came to the house to pay cash for the things they wanted to buy ... And, from that day to this ... the minute my family discovers we aren't using something, they sell it with an inexpensive Post-Crescent Want Ad.

Lawrence Says Fulbright View Of Panama and Cuba Surprising

Appeasement, as History Shows, Is Always Dangerous

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Since the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today is a member of President Johnson's own political party, the world will read with surprise a speech just made by Sen. J. William Fulbright, head of that important committee. He advocates a policy with respect to Cuba and the Soviet government that will be widely construed as a kind of passive acquiescence in the Communist behavior in the "cold war," if not a willingness to appease the Communist regimes.

Sen. Fulbright's views, it has been noted by the White House, are his own. But nevertheless it is significant that anyone as prominent in Congress as the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee should be making the following series of declarations.

"The master myth of the cold war is that the Communist bloc is a monolith composed of governments which are not really governments at all but organized conspiracies, divided among themselves perhaps in certain matters of tactics, but all equally resolute and implacable in their determination to destroy the free world."

"I believe that the Communist world is indeed hostile to the free world in its general and long-term intentions but that the existence of this animosity in principle is far less important for our foreign policy than the great variations in its intensity and character both in time and among the individual members of the Communist bloc. . . .

Soviet Union
"For a start, we can acknowledge the fact that the Soviet Union, though still a most formidable adversary, has ceased to be totally and implacably hostile to the west. . . .

"It is not Communism as a doctrine, or Communism as it is practiced within the Soviet Union or within any other country, that threatens us."

"It is not Communist dogmas as espoused within Russia but Communist imperialism that threatens us and other peoples of the non-Communist world. Insofar as a great nation mobilizes its power and resources for aggressive purposes, that nation, regardless of ideology, makes itself our enemy."

What is overlooked is that a dictatorship or totalitarian government can and does utilize to its advantage the discipline of the Communist party itself.

Differences Certain

Unquestionably there are differences between certain states in the Communist bloc, and it is conceivable that in due time some of them may be weaned away from Moscow or Peking. But Sen. Fulbright's contention that the disputes inside the Communist group of countries have become more important to American foreign policy than the activities and insidious operations of the Moscow government throughout the globe and will be strongly disputed.

It is perhaps in the field of Latin-American policy that Sen. Fulbright's speech will evoke the most criticism. For he openly declares that America's policy in trying to isolate Cuba politically and economically and to persuade other free-world countries to maintain economic boycotts against Cuba has been a "failure." He says, "There is no reason to believe that it will succeed in the future."

The Arkansas senator insists that he is "not arguing against the desirability of an economic boycott against the Castro regime but against its feasibility."

He says the "failure" has not been due to any "weakness" or "timidity" on the part of the United States government, but that the policy cannot succeed "unless we are prepared to take drastic sanctions" against our own allies. He contends that the prospects of "bringing down the Castro regime by political or economic boycott have never been very good," and he concludes:

Boycott Failure

"Having ruled out military invasion and blockade, and recognizing the failure of the boycott policy, we are compelled to consider the third of the three options open to us with respect to Cuba: The acceptance of the continued existence of the Castro regime as a distasteful nuisance but not an intolerable danger so long as the nations of the hemisphere are prepared to meet their obligations of collective defense under the Rio Treaty."

But Mr. Fulbright assumes a strength on the part of the inter-American organization that it does not possess today, largely because moral force has never been effectively used to denounce the tyranny that exists in Cuba, where a Communist apparatus has taken over the country. The Arkansas senator overlooks the fact that the United States is the principal force inside the inter-American system and that, if this country throws in the sponge in the fight against Castro, the Latin-American countries will be inclined to do likewise.

Excessive Moralism

Sen. Fulbright deplores what he terms "excessive moralism." Yet if the United States abandons moral principles in world policy and turns toward the so-called "practical" side, with its materialistic motivation, and, in effect, admits that it cannot exercise its influence in the world for the good of down-trodden nations just because success is not immediately attainable, then the hopes of many peoples — that some day they may depend on the moral support of this country as they try to liberate themselves from dictatorship — will be wrecked on the seas of despair.

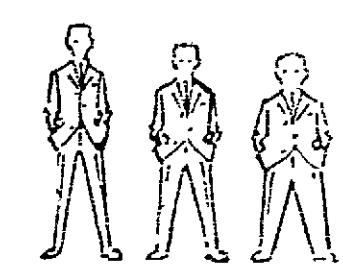

Sen. Fulbright's speech undoubtedly will be widely discussed, for it represents a point of view of many persons inside and outside our government who believe as Chamberlain did in 1938 that a little bit of appeasement can never be harmful or bring on war. History, however, tells a different story.

Angina Pectoris Causes Varied, Can be Treated

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. some cases of angina in which no heart or other disease can be found to explain the pain. The pressures do not exist in angina, for blood vessels to enlarge or extend themselves, because there is no complete shut-off of circulation to any area. It is wiser, therefore, for the angina patient not to look forward to some striking change which will put an end to his problem.

At the same time, he has certain advantages, too. He does not have to face the sudden and severe risk that must be faced by the person who has a coronary, nor does he, as a rule, have to anticipate several weeks of hospitalization.

And there are certain things which he and his doctor can do to make his situation easier. Reduction in weight reduction in blood pressure if it is excessive, reduction of cholesterol in the bloodstream—all of these are helpful.

Perhaps most important is an understanding of the situation and a corresponding change in habits and activities, to keep the amount of exertion below the point at which an attack of pain starts.

The nitroglycerin or similar drugs, which can be taken as long as needed, and in such amount as is required without harm, are extremely useful. With modified living habits and these treatments, the disorder of angina can go on for years without being too disabling.
